Want "Strong Wilson Man" to Run Against Stephens in November

CONFERENCE OF DEMOCRATS IS HELD AT SAN FRANCISCO

Party Members Await Deter- mination of Leaders on Course of Action

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Democratic party leaders gathered this afternoon for an "informal conference" on the election tangle which threatens the existence of the party in the state, and which apparently has re-elected Governor Stephens at the primary.

Before going into conference, Gavin McNab, one of the party leaders, announced no definite action can be taken now.

The primary election held Tuesday cannot be taken to court until the official count is announced. That may take forty-six days or until the middle of October. Sixteen days are allowed city and county registrars in which to report their vote. The secretary of state is allowed thirty days to certify the returns.

Should court action be filed after the official count is announced, probably no decision could be reached until after the election. But Secretary of State Jordan is known to be friendly to Rolph and therefore might hasten the official returns.

The plan to conduct a campaign to have voters write in a Democratic candidate, possibly Rolph, was under serious consideration.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Nomination by petition of a Democratic candidate to make the race against Governor Stephens in November, was under consideration by Democratic leaders here today as a means of getting the party on the ballot, even though any action taken in the courts failed.

Plans for a meeting here at which northern leaders probably would be present were being worked out, party leaders declaring arrangements for this meeting were in the hands of Chairman Simms of the Democratic County Central committee.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—With democratic party leaders gathering here for a conference this afternoon, Mayor James Rolph early today was still maintaining a sphinx-like silence about the democratic nomination for governor which he won and cannot accept.

"A nice question of law" was what democratic lawyers called it.

If the democratic voters choose to nominate a republican who is unable to win the nomination of his own party, who should all those voters be disenfranchised? Largely on this argument the case will be put up to the supreme court of the state and the conference this afternoon will determine just how this is to be done.

"In the absence of a statement from Rolph, most of the democratic leaders were inclined to believe he is in a receptive mood, should a proposal to try to put him on the November ballot as a democratic be discussed.

Few lawyers thought the democratic primary fluke would legally put the party out of existence in the state because other democratic candidates on the same ticket received enough votes to qualify the party under the primary law.

The demand among democrats today was for a "strong Wilson man" to contest for the governorship in November.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 30.—Democratic leaders in the South anxiously awaited the outcome of the conference to be held in San Francisco today when it was expected a course of action in the Heney-Rolph democratic nomination tangle, would be determined.

A statement by Isidore Dockweiler, national Democratic committeeman, that if the Democrats are without a head to their ticket at the November election it will mean they cannot put a ticket of presidential electors in the field two years from now and will be disenfranchised at the presidential election, aroused still greater interest.

Republicans were watching the situation almost as interestedly as did the Democrats. Governor Stephens issued a statement declaring he hopes the Democrats will find a way to put a man in the field.

"The Democratic party is entitled to have a candidate," he said.

STEPHENS' PLURALITY OVER 20,000; RETURNS FROM 5612 PRECINCTS

Young of Berkeley Leads Rom- inger for Lieut.-Govern- or By 11,000 Votes

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The plurality of Gov. Wm. D. Stephens over James Rolph for the Republican gubernatorial nomination was more than 20,000 on the face of returns from 5612 precincts out of 6303 in the state early today.

These returns gave Stephens 163,104; Rolph 142,289.

For lieutenant governor approximately 5000 precincts gave C. C. Young of Berkeley a lead of 11,000 over Rominger, his nearest opponent, with Snyder third and Breed fourth in the race.

ALL WAS QUIET AT NOGALES LAST NIGHT

Everybody Slept and Not a Shot Was Fired; Truce Agreement Reaffirmed

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 30.—Nogales last night had its first real good sleep for three days.

There was not a shot fired, nor were any threatening movements reported from this section of the border. Nogales, Sonora, seemed to have resumed its peaceful atmosphere and everyone, including military authorities, were fairly confident the disturbances were over.

General Calles, Carranza's representative at Nogales, Sonora, ordered all civilians having fire-arms to register them with the military authorities within 24 hours. The order was generally obeyed.

Calles has a considerable force at his command and it is believed he has the situation entirely under control.

Another conference between Calles and General Cabell, American commander, late yesterday was followed by the announcement that the agreement that there would be no more hostilities had been re-affirmed.

SENATE APPROVED MAN-POWER BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Senate late today approved the conference on the man-power bill. The bill, which changes the draft ages to 18 to 45, now goes to the President for his signature.

Send the Home Paper

Send the home newspaper to wounded American soldiers "over there." Send the home newspapers to soldiers "over there" who are not wounded. Colonel Roosevelt is urging a general movement to provide the gallant Yankee troops with fresh copies of home newspapers, mailed regularly. Colonel Roosevelt was prompted to this suggestion by an American woman in France who has visited hospitals where American wounded are quartered. "The men are splendid, and not complaining," she writes. "They are pathetically eager for home news, and there is nothing they wish for more than home papers." They do not want old papers that have been read and thrown away, but daily papers mailed to them regularly.

This is a goodly service that thoughtful, considerate patriots may give these brave boys. The home newspaper to the boy "over there" must seem like a refreshing breath from home—like bringing home and setting it down beside him in the war zone.

STEAM ROLLER OF ALLIES ABOUT TO CRUMPLE FOE LINES

Enemy Likely to Go So Fast He Can't Stop on the Old Hindenburg Position

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Aug. 30.—The question today is not whether the Germans will retreat to the Hindenburg line, but whether they will stop there.

In the Arras region the British are now two to three miles past the Hindenburg line on a front of about twelve miles. They are already beginning movements designed to crumple up the end of the line and fold back the enemy's northern wing.

The fall of Noyon and Bapaume in a single day illustrates the momentum of the Allied steam roller at a time when it might be expected to be slowing up.

Peronne is practically lost and the Germans seem to have definitely abandoned all pretenses of holding the south Somme and the west Somme.

There is only one point of resistance on this side of the river now—the angle where the river turns southward near Peronne.

Capture of Juvinvy by the French and Americans is extremely important as this town is located on the heights north of the Aisne and forms the gateway to the Chemin des Dames behind the Germans.

In the capture of Morlincourt General Mangin turned the Noyon Canal line, where General Ludendorff undoubtedly intended to make a stand.

LOAN SLACKERS BE PUBLICLY BRANDED BADGE OF SHAME

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—What to do with Liberty Bond slackers was one of the big questions discussed at the Northern California conference of Liberty Loan chairmen in San Francisco this week. Although "strong arm" methods were discouraged, full "moral suasion" was endorsed and it was the opinion of the governor, James K. Lynch and a majority of the chairmen that the names of those refusing to subscribe after being given a hearing should be published by the vigilance committee in the newspapers as a "Badge of Shame."

BOCHE OFFICER SHOT TEN MEN WHO REFUSED TO FIGHT

Was No Use, Though, and Of- ficer Himself Surrendered; Enemy Morale Very Low

BY LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 29.—(Delayed.)—Walking calmly down the Cambrai road near Haucourt during the Canadian advance there, a solitary German met a Canadian patrol. He carried rations for two days, an extra shirt and extra socks. His first question to the Canadians was the way to the prisoners' cage.

"They're hopeless—won't fight," said an officer recently taken from the 214th German division. "The word 'Canadian' throws them into a panic."

He was referring to his own men. "I shot ten," he continued, "because they wouldn't fight, but it was no use. I had to surrender myself."

Such incidents are piling up with the British troops' march forward and probably are responsible for the declaration of a well known officer in General Horne's army today.

"The German army is beaten," the officer declared. This is a cool, practical thinker, who had not before been influenced by the fluctuating German morale.

"Their morale is down to stay," he added. "We've got them whipped."

Prisoners taken in this section declared it was the German purpose to hold the Drocourt-Queant line at all costs, although it was in a bad state of repair and unfit for a good defense. There orders were to withdraw if strongly attacked, first to an intermediate line and then to the Drocourt-Queant line.

The fighting at Greenland hill and Boiry indicates the withdrawal was not made voluntarily. It is believed the only immediate defense line of any importance now lies behind the Canal du Nord.

Sentences of one year and one day and fines of $15,000 were meted out to the first twelve of the ninety-seven I. W. W.'s convicted here on charges of sedition, when they faced Judge Landis late today.

In this list is included George Speed of San Francisco and Charles McWhirt of Los Angeles. Glen Roberts of Los Angeles was sentenced to ten days in the Cook county jail.

Not all of the sentences have been pronounced.

ALLIES CONTINUE FORWARD PUSH, TAKING MANY TOWNS, AND ARE STILL ADVANCING

British Gained Over Mile Today Along the Scarpe; Canadians Smash on In New Attack; Line Advanced Four Miles Beyond Old Hindenburg Line Yesterday; Scottish Divisions Gain Valuable Ground Near Arras; French Continue to Enlarge Gains on South of Picardy Front.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 30.—The British today had Peronne under the same direct and flanking threat which resulted in the fall of Bapaume.

At noon the Australians faced Peronne across the Somme from the south and had reached almost within striking distance on the north side of the river. The British hold the entire western bank of the river in conjunction with the French, and at one point have crossed the canal which here is practically the same as the river.

Along the Somme below Peronne the Germans are withdrawing their field guns. Their heavy pieces already are some distance behind the city. Combes has been taken, together with a battery of field guns. Comparatively few prisoners have been reported. So far only 260 have been taken on the river below Peronne.

LONDON, Aug. 30. (7:15 p. m.)—The Germans have evacuated Bailloul, it was learned tonight. British troops are reported to have captured Mood-boom, three miles south of Bailloul.

LONDON, Aug. 30. (4:31 p. m.)—The British have established three posts across the Somme. Moulin has been captured. The heaviest fighting is in progress along the Arras-Cambrai road.

(Undated War Lead by United Press)
The Allies have broken through the Somme, which the Germans intended to hold temporarily to cover their retreat to the Hindenburg line. Field Marshal Haig announced today the Somme River had been crossed south and west of Peronne. This apparently brings the British into the very outskirts of that important communication center and flanks it from the north.

This "break through" may well also result in a flanking movement against Ham from the north and thus force immediate retirement to St. Quentin and the remainder of the Hindenburg line, 15 miles to the eastward.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Mexican demonstrations against Chinese in Mexico which, it is feared, may lead to violence, are being planned for September 15 and 16, according to reports to Federal officials here today.

Fuzanyosuke Kuhara is president of the Kuhara Mining company of Tokio and lessee of the Hitachi copper mine, the largest in Japan.

INDIAN BANDIT PLACED IN JAIL

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 30.—Sheriff D. B. Newell brought Frank Elario, half-breed Indian, into the county jail here today, having captured him late yesterday near the Indian settlement near Tejon canyon, after a half hour battle.

Sheriff Newell and a posse trailed the Indian eighteen miles through a near-wilderness yesterday. Finally they caught up with him. Finding himself cornered, the Indian showed fight, with the result that there was a spirited exchange of shots until Elario's ammunition was about exhausted.

No one was hit during the exchange of shots.

Elario is charged with having shot and killed Alfred Yucca and Mrs. Francesa Lieva and Miss Isabel Yucca Sunday at Yucca's home.

Elario said he was intoxicated when he did the shooting.

$75,000 ROBBER IS BELIEVED CAPTURED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Police today were confident they had arrested L. C. Wende, for whom they have been searching since the grand jury indicted him for robbing the Donovan Seamans jewelry store here of $75,000 worth of jewelry and money.

He stoutly maintained it was a case of mistaken identity but the police declare he is wearing Wende's clothes and answers perfectly the description given them.

GERMANS RESIST FRANCO-YANKEE ATTACKS ON AISNE LINE

Prussians Desperately Contest Valuable Heights North of Soissons With Allies

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 30.—The Germans are fighting desperately to hold the line of the Aisne heights north of Soissons, which have been assailed by the French Tenth army, in which Americans are brigaded. If these are driven back any considerable distance, it will be by the superior fighting qualities of the French and Americans and their greater gun power.

In yesterday's fighting there was no indication the line would be found soft, except for rear-guard machine-gun nests. The element of surprise cannot enter this fighting as the German staff obviously recognizes the importance of the line under attack and undoubtedly has expected the assault for some time.

The fighting is over what has been a battle field since 1914.

It contains an extensive cave and a network of old trench systems. We are fighting in consequence a curious mixture of open and old trench warfare, the latter requiring strong artillery preparation.

Yesterday's operation carried the French and Americans forward but the fighting is of a far different nature than that encountered in the recent rush from the Marne.

Every foot of the Chavigny-Juvinvy region is contested. The famous Prussian Seventh regiment is opposing the Americans. Prisoners taken are typically Prussian. Some are unusually arrogant.

When one officer was asked where he came from he came to attention, pulled himself to his full height and answered definitely, "Prussian!"

There are instances of Americans picking up Prussians. A sergeant from Wisconsin ran upon four emplaced in a shell hole. All surrendered. The sergeant marched them to the rear. One of them said the German soldiers are being fairly well fed, the physical condition of boys under 21 receiving special attention. They are given extra bread rations.

It was an ideal day for a battle yesterday. It was clear and cool but a ground haze obscured movements in the early morning. Later the sun penetrated the mist, unfolding a remarkable picture—a vast field of moving men and war equipment. These plateaus are remarkable for a constant silhouette view given to moving men, guns and horses. Sharp dips and rises there cause the groups to be thrown into sharp relief, suggesting a living Remington drawing.

The Americans enthusiastically praise the work of tanks in cleaning up trenches and machine-gun nests and breaking through wire entanglements. One tank placed itself across a short trench, enfilading and driving off the boche. The doughboys said they didn't see how the tank was going to get off, but it climbed on across without any trouble.

When the Americans encountered several strings of caves into which the boche had burrowed, they used great numbers of grenades with telling effect. From the heights where the Americans and French are fighting the spires of Soissons cathedral are visible.

It is now permissible to describe the arrival of the Americans in this part of the battle front. Throughout Tuesday and Tuesday night and Wednesday troops and wagons wound up roads through valleys which connected vast plateaus. They passed over ground conquered by the First and Second divisions when the Americans first fought in the Soissons region.

Late Wednesday, just after news of the repulse of a German counter-attack had come in, I saw an entire American battalion silhouetted against the sky, the men lashing their horses as they hurried up along the very peak of a long rise. Meantime, infantry and machine gunners were moving along the road and across the fields. Late Wednesday in conjunction with the French an attack was carried out without great initial resistance. The Americans advanced their line slightly across a plateau

CLERK OF STATE LEGISLATURE IS CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

J. A. Beek, Balboa, Alleged to Have Stolen Gas Engine

A former clerk of the state legislature today stands in Justice of the Peace Cox's court charged with burglary. He is J. A. Beek of Balboa Island, and was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by City Marshal J. A. Porter of Newport Beach and a complaint charging him with burglary was filed against him. He was arraigned before Judge Cox last evening and held for trial on September 16, under $2000 bail. Bail was promptly furnished by E. M. White and Dr. J. S. White of Pasadena.

Last March a gas engine, chairs, rug and other articles were stolen from the cottage of C. D. Cheeseman on Crescent row at Balboa. Cheeseman is a wealthy man of Los Angeles.

A few days ago Beek took the engine to Los Angeles to be repaired and at the place he took it for repairs it was recognized as the engine formerly belonging to Cheeseman, the firm having worked on it before. Cheeseman was advised, as were also officers, and an investigation resulted in the finding of the other stolen articles at the cottage on Balboa Island occupied by Beek.

Beek claims to have purchased the engine and other articles from a man by the name of Guy Porter, who engaged in fishing at Newport Beach for a short time, and who has since left the beach.

At Newport Beach, and where Beek is known, it is not believed that he was guilty of the burglary, and the inclination is to believe his story about having purchased the articles.

He is well connected in Los Angeles and was formerly clerk in the state legislature. He has been occupying the cottage on Balboa Island since about the first of the year. He has run a pier into the bay and has boasted quite a business in renting boats.

HAIG REPORTS ON BRITISH CROSSING OF THE SOMME

LONDON, Aug. 30.—British troops have crossed the Somme river south and west of Peronne, Field Marshal Haig announced today.

Canadian troops smashed forward this morning in a new attack south of Arras-Cambrai road.

In yesterday's fighting the British pushed more than four miles beyond the Hindenburg line in this region.

British troops are also pushing ahead in the Lawe and Lys valleys, on the Flanders front.

"Between Hendecourt (two miles and a half east of Croisilles) and the Arras-Cambrai road (three miles to the northward) an attack by Canadian troops early this morning was reported developing favorably," the statement said. "Astride the Scarpe, British and Scottish divisions continued to advance yesterday afternoon and gained valuable ground in the direction of Elterpigny (eight miles east and south of Arras), Hamblain-les-Prés (two miles north of Elterpigny) and Plouvain (four miles northwest of Hamblain-les-Prés). We hold Remy (a mile west of Elterpigny). A number of prisoners were taken in these operations."

"In the valleys of the Lawe and Lys we continued to push forward."

"In spite of destruction of bridges our advanced troops crossed the Somme both south and west of Peronne. Clergy-sur-Somme (three miles northwest of Peronne) and Combles (three miles northwest of Clergy-sur-Somme) have been taken. Here along over 200 prisoners and a few guns were captured yesterday."

"North of Bapaume, London and West Lancashire troops made important progress yesterday evening east of the Senoe river, capturing Butcourt (two miles east of Croisilles), Hendecourt (a mile and a quarter north of Bullecourt) and Les Ganicourt (five miles east and south of Croisilles and four miles across the Hindenburg line) after hard fighting, together with the powerful German trench systems protecting them."

German counter attacks northwest of Soissons were repulsed last night, the French war office announced today. There was no change in the Somme and North canal regions.

"On the Somme and in the North canal region last night there was no change," the communique said. "Between the Ailette and the Aisne German counter attacks east of Pasly (a mile and a half northwest of Soissons) were repulsed and the French gains maintained."

"On the Vesle and in the Champagne region German raids were repulsed."

DEMOCRATS MEET IN CONFERENCE TODAY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) ocratic leaders late yesterday, reiterated his statement that, personally he is through with the matter and will take no action, but if the courts rule he has been nominated, he sees it as his duty to make the race.

Democratic leaders declared they hadn't given up hope of having their troubles settled through the defeat of Rolph by Heney. They maintained Rolph has only a 16,000 lead in Northern California, and that Heney leads by 14,000 in the South, with a third of the state unreputed.

Bordwell, Hayes and Fickert all wired Governor Stephens promising him their support.

"I should like to tender my support to someone, but there isn't anyone left," declared Thos. Lee Woolwine, who was third in the Democratic sweepstakes.

BUSINESS, NOT POLITICS, IS TAKING HENRY NORTH

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Francis J. Heney plans to leave Los Angeles for San Francisco tonight, but a case in the federal court and not the political situation, is taking him, he told the United Press today.

"As far as I am concerned the matter is closed," he declared, discussing the Democratic nomination tangle.

"Whatever action the Democratic leaders may take or may get from the courts I will abide by. But I will take no action myself and while I expect to leave for San Francisco tonight I have made no plans to attend any Democratic conference there. My trip is on legal business. I would have left last night, had not Mrs. Heney been ill."

English women claim that there is nothing they have attempted in which they haven't made good.

The men are convinced that even if women do become lawyers they will never get any clients, so they are nonchalantly assuming the "let-them-get-on-with-it" attitude and a goodly number of English women are studying law.

EACH DIVISION IS THE 'BEST IN FRANCE'

Every Unit, Generals and All, Try to Show They're Better Than the Others

BY LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 12.—(By Mail).—The general never batted an eye as he pronounced this verdict on his own division:

"They're the best division in France, sir!"

Thus calmly—he didn't raise his voice and he didn't bang the table with his fist—he gave his men credit for having won the keenest competition of its kind that France has seen. This is the competition between the divisions. It has been under way ever since there have been as many as two divisions over there to compete. Each is striving to prove that in organization and in spirit it leads all the others.

"I'll tell you why," said the general. "These tar-heels and Tennessee mountain lads of mine are all real Americans. I don't suppose more than a dozen of them ever saw a foreigner until we came over here. You go and look them over and see if I'm not right."

Which we did. Several companies of them were passing the general's house at the moment. They trudged along easily under the pack that some soldiers consider so heavy. They were cheerful and unworried.

Americans, All Right

"Wheah do we go from heah?" asked one of another.

The other replied that the captain had called for volunteers to storm the brewery in the next town. He didn't smile and the others who heard enjoyed it without smiling. And British Tommies working on the road put them down, no doubt, as some more of those serious Americans.

They looked just as good as the general said they were. But when we visited one of their camps half an hour later the first man to whom we were introduced bore a name as German as Ludendorff. That might seem to refute the general's theory, if this man, a captain, had not talked with a gawd that comes from being born in the land of cotton.

On a hill-slope close by target practice with machine guns was under way. Every now and then there came a burst of excited cheering. It sounded like a ball game. That was one of the reasons this was the best division in the army, the captain explained; there was keen competition among the men themselves and instead of keeping this feeling bottled up, it was encouraged in every way. Of course, he said, there wasn't much real necessity for teaching his men to shoot, since they came from a section where everybody knew how. To use a rifle. A man who couldn't hit a buzzard in a tree top at half a mile, was considered a community disgrace.

Good at Yelling, Too

The yells of derision and delight continued from the hill-slope. They forecasted a new experience for German troops when they meet that bit of civil war frightfulness known as the rebel yell.

They looked mighty good, these Southern boys. However—

"I'll tell you why our division has the lead over the others," said a New York colonel. "We've been a division for twenty years; we're not a yearling outfit, like the rest. We've worked together for a long time, and come over here together. And now we've got an airtight, fighting division."

That was today. Day before yesterday it was the general commanding certain Illinoisans. The exact argument he offered in support of his contention that his is the best division in France can't be repeated without running counter to the censorship. To see the men, however, is to realize one of the grounds for his confidence. There is a certain sureness in their bearing that only rests on shoulders where it belongs.

One Illinois officer advanced the belief that the German element in their numbers was a source of real strength. The boys with German parents, he said, feel they have an extra proof to give of their Americanism, and they are giving it.

Another Best Unit

"Did you ever see a crowd look quite as much at home?" asked a Pennsylvania major. "I tell you they were just made for this. Of course it doesn't reflect any particular credit on us, for we had certain natural advantages, but as a matter of cold fact, it's the best division in France."

New England officers, who once used argument somewhat akin to that of the general of the tar-heels, now simply smile and remark, "Cantigny."

And the commander of the troops who stopped the German rush at Chateau-Thierry, will, if pressed, recall what the French army commander said of his organization, pointing out that the French general specifically named his division when he said it.

So it goes. The effort is becoming less and less to prove to the French and the British, the kind of stuff Americans are made of; that has has pretty well been demonstrated, most officers feel. The effort now of each division is to prove to the others that good as they are, there is one a little better.

DEMONSTRATOR OF FOOD URGED FOR COUNTY

Mrs. Burdette Addresses Farm Bureau Crowd at Picnic Today; Nearly 1000

Urging the women of Orange county to demand action by the supervisors to get the services of a woman food demonstrating agent, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, State Director of Food Conservation, addressed a large crowd of farmers and their families at Orange County Park this morning during the Farm Bureau picnic. She said the women of the county would be missing a big chance if they should not see to it that the county grasps the opportunity for securing such a government demonstrator.

"Ask for the demonstrator," said Mrs. Burdette, "keep at it, and see that you get what you ought to have."

The crowd today exceeded all expectations, there being nearly a thousand people present, where only about three hundred were expected. Several interesting addresses were given and several makes of tractors were on hand for demonstration.

WILL ORGANIZE WAR SOCIETIES IN COUNTY

Workers Met at Anaheim Last Night and Decide On Action

Organization of War Savings Societies are to be affected throughout Orange county and efforts will probably be made at the time of the next Liberty Loan drive to secure membership for such. Decision to start the campaign of organization in the county at once was made at a meeting of county War Savings Stamp workers held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Anaheim last night.

There was a fair representation of workers, and following an address by Judge H. N. Wells of Los Angeles, plans for the campaign were discussed. Methods of performing the work will be left to individual communities, and those at the head of the community work will be held responsible for the success of the movement in their respective districts. The administration has requested that every section of the United States be organized the week of September 2-9, but this is considered impractical because of the fact that the movement has not been thoroughly advertised and necessary campaign of education conducted.

The meeting authorized County Chairman John McFadden to get in touch with the county chairman of the Liberty Loan committee and see if plans could be arranged whereby solicitors for the next loan could take applications for membership in the War Savings Societies.

It is anticipated that in time War Savings Societies will take over the work entirely of handling drives for all war activities, and it is believed by some that the organization of such societies will eliminate drives altogether. By people banding themselves together in these organizations for discussions of war affairs, it is believed there will be a more general awakening to the fact that the war is everybody's war and that each individual has a responsibility in providing the sinews of war.

Organization may be made by school districts, by precincts or in packing houses and other plants where there are enough people employed to warrant them being formed into a society.

Conservation of materials needed by the government for the conduct of the war will be the chief factor in the societies.

The campaign of education now being conducted by the government in promotion of the societies is gripping the people as the policy and object are becoming better known.

Judge Wells, in his address last night, impressed the point to the societies by an illustration supposing that a single man had sold to the value of $6,000,000,000 and purchased the entire issue of the Fourth Liberty Loan. By that transaction the government would in no way benefit, because it could not purchase materials if the people themselves used their own money in purchasing those materials.

Conservation of everything that will in any way help the war is what is necessary. Subscription to bonds to be paid for out of future earnings—that is what will count, for when the people commence to sacrifice and save their money for the government they will become less and less competitors of the government for war essentials.

"Germany has 70,000,000 people back of her, and we shouldn't fool ourselves by believing that the German people are not backing their government in this war," said Judge Wells.

"In addition to this, Germany has enslaved 80,000,000 people and is working them in the factories and the fields. The men in the factories and the fields are producing for the German people and for the soldiers. The workers are doled out just enough to keep them working and the balance is devoted to the war machine. The people at home in Germany are being compelled to sacrifice.

"Will Americans voluntarily save and sacrifice to overcome the compelled saving of the Germans?"

"The time is coming when it will be a badge of honor to wear patches on our pants—and why not patches—and why not barrels, if necessary."

"We can't succeed in Liberty Loan drives, we can't succeed in War Savings Stamp drives, we can't succeed in any drive unless we teach the people the fundamental of saving."

"Somebody is going to write the history of the war, and that writer will say that one of the most potent factors in the winning of the war was the War Savings Societies. And what a potent factor they will be in the reconstruction period after the war."

"We are fighting as much for the German people as for ourselves and we are going to Berlin—and we are going in and we are coming out of Berlin clean."

THEDA BARA AS CLEOPATRA

'CLEOPATRA' BEGINS AT THE TEMPLE ON SUNDAY

In spite of the modern woman's assertions that her aim in life is to be useful as well as—or perhaps rather than—ornamental, it is hard to find one of the gentle sex who will be ready to give up that delicate pleasure of lingering over objects with which she may enlighten her own charms. That delicious sensation of suspense and indecision when the mind wavers between "How well I'd look in that" and "I wonder whether I can afford it," is not one of the fruits of progress or modern civilization, for already in ancient Egypt temptation beckoned in every market place.

The splendid jewels and gorgeous costumes worn by Cleopatra's retinue in William Fox's film version of the famous story of Egypt's siren queen, portrayed by Theda Bara, in ancient Egypt would have been displayed in a simple stall, often a shed widely open in front but closed every evening by means of wooden shutters held in place by cross-bars.

Nor had the Egyptian housewife need of pure food laws that protected her against the substitutes and adulterations put on the market nowadays. For behind the confectioner's display of preserved dates, syrups and pastry his assistants at the back are pounding almonds and pistachio nuts in mortars and preparing mysterious liquids. No elaborate glass cases or plush covered shelves contained the merchandise. The display was made on simple boards or shelves; only the most valuable object would be stored in a carefully closed room in back of the shop. But the most interesting part of the Egyptian shopping expedition would be that the desired article would be made before the curious customer's very eyes. The skillful goldsmith with his crucible, pincers and blowpipe fashioned for you before your eyes rings, earrings, chain or ankle ring. A single apprentice rushes to and fro, now helping the master to blow up the fire of his furnace, now answering the demands of some customer who is less fastidious and will be satisfied with one of the copper bracelets that form the stock.

"Cleopatra" comes to the Temple Theater for four days, beginning Sunday—first time ever shown here at no advance in price of admission.

NEWPORT BEACH KILLS KAISER -IN DREAM

Corporal Leonard Eaton Gets War Action While Sleeping

Corporal Leonard Eaton is in France and he has killed the kaiser with a rock—in a dream. Eaton is the son of Mrs. J. C. Johnston of Newport Beach and is a member of Co. D, 364 infantry, which left for over there in June. He went from here to Camp Lewis on October 3, 1917.

Writing to his mother from France on July 28, he says:

"We had a very pleasant trip across, but it was a little tiresome being in quarters so long. We came across on a very large transport, crossing to England, thence to France by boat and by train to the camp where we are now located. The camp is just behind a quiet sector of the firing line."

"This country is very beautiful and looks as though it could feed itself forever. There are some very odd sights, such as three horses pulling a two-wheeled cart, the horses hitched in front of each other. The houses here are made of brick and stone and most of them are two and four stories."

"The weather is like spring. We are not going to the front for a while. When we do go, Bochs, look out for Co. D!"

"I am getting along fine and couldn't feel better under any circumstances. The French treat us fine."

"Oh, yes! I had a lovely dream last night. I thought I got the kaiser—thought that I shot at him and the gun wouldn't work, so I got a rock and finally put him out. I hope that comes true, only I wouldn't stop at pounding his head with a rock."

"We have a fine bunch of officers, too, and when they say Go we will know it's the time. We have our little drills now the same as ever, but are slowly leaving them off and taking up our special work."

BREED APPOINTS PAINLESS PARKER

Writes Official Arguments In Favor of Dental Amendment

Acting Lieutenant-Governor Arthur H. Breed has appointed Dr. Painless Parker to make the official argument in favor of the amendment to the Dental Law. This argument will be sent to every voter in the State through the Secretary of State. It is now being printed at the State Printing Office. Dr. Parker's argument follows:

This is the first time the people have been given an opportunity to make their dental laws. If dental laws are enacted for the benefit of the people it is not a bad idea to allow the people to have something to say regarding their provisions. If it is true that the layman knows little about dentistry and is not qualified to make laws, then our legislators are equally incompetent to pass upon dental measures. Not being dentists they have no knowledge of this subject superior to that possessed by the average voter. Any general lack of knowledge on this subject of vital importance must be attributed directly to the fact that this information has been willfully withheld by dentists who proclaim themselves the "protectors of the people's welfare."

The dental associations, through their ban on publicity, have kept the people from a better understanding of dentistry. This same combine then tells the legislators that, as they have no knowledge of dentistry, the laws should be enacted as prepared by their dental lobby. This has resulted in laws being made for the benefit of a dental combine and not for the people.

The proposed new section 17 will raise the present low standard required for members of the State Board of Dental Examiners, making it equal to that of other states. It insures a board with higher qualifications than those required of dentists applying for license.

The proposed new section 18 requires that all applicants to practice dentistry must be examined by the Board of Dental Examiners, except dental graduates having unquestionable proof of both the very highest qualifications and experience. It gives to dentists the same right now accorded by law to physicians, surgeons and lawyers. It guards against prejudice on the part of the Board of Examiners. No good dentist will come here now to wait six months for examination, so the people are deprived of his superior services.

The proposed new section 19 requires the presence of a third person when an anaesthetic is administered, which works no hardship or expense, and its wisdom is so apparent that it needs no explanation.

The Dental Board now has arbitrary power to take away a dentist's license for "unprofessional conduct." Advertising and charging below an excessive fixed price for dentistry is held "unprofessional" by an association of which the Dental Examiners are members.

The proposed new section 20 permits a dentist to advertise and charge reasonable fees, enlighten the people, and place dentistry within reach of all, without fear of losing his license, which is his means of making a living.

These are corrections that will be made by the proposed amendment which you are asked to vote for.

WORK OR GET OUT

The federal government has announced a slogan of "Work or Fight" for application to citizens of the United States. It has undertaken the saving of food, and the response through the patriotic endeavor of the people to meet the desires of the government in its win-the-war programs has had wonderful results.

Here at home, however, is a condition that may yet have to be taken in hand. It is a problem to which we have become inured in years past, but which has forced itself clearly upon our attention in the last year or two by reason of a situation brought about by the scarcity of labor.

It is our Mexican problem. Because the Mexicans are aliens, the "Work or Fight" rule cannot be applied to them. Their interpretation of the situation brought about by the war may very well be put into three words, "Work and Loaf," with emphasis on the last word. War conditions have created a big demand for laborers, and consequently wages have gone up. The Mexican who used to make $1.75 to $2.25 a day in the beet fields now makes $4 or $4.50.

The foreign laborers in the East as a rule have grasped the opportunity of high wage conditions to work early and late, piling up as much money as possible. With the easy-going Mexican, careless of the future, the inclination is to work three days a week and loaf the remaining four days. This inclination is already bringing alarm in the beet fields, where the harvest is just well begun. Labor is needed, and needed badly, and yet there is no way by which the idle Mexicans can be made to work and keep on working.

And while they loaf, they eat. While they are not working, while they are doing nothing to produce the great quantities of food-stuffs that must be produced to win the war, they and their families are consuming food.

This war may last for some time yet. The federal authorities have gone to great trouble to make labor surveys. They have found 500 laborers available in this community, 750 in that and 1000 in another. The need for laborers during the peak of the busy season will be 400 here, 800 there and 1250 in another place. Through labor agents, the labor department is endeavoring to distribute labor where it is most needed.

Our Mexicans have all been counted in upon this survey, but they are upsetting calculations considerably. True, there are 500 laborers here, 750 there and 1000 in another community, just as reported in the survey, but when those laborers are spending half of their time loafing, hunting new jobs, and spending their wages they are not meeting their share of the responsibilities resting upon ALL people who live within the borders of this country.

Measures ought to be provided whereby local officers everywhere could get a firmer grip on the alien loafer. While the work-or-fight rule cannot be applied to him, certainly authority ought to be given to apply a rule of "Work or Get Out". And by that we do not mean merely shoving him on to the next community. We mean: "Work or Go Back to Mexico." The exodus of a carload of Mexicans under escort might convince those that are left that it was time for them to get busy and keep busy.

RETURN TO PIONEER LIFE

While government, in its war business, is moved by the spirit of standardization, the country is turning to individualism. More families are raising their own meat, in the shape of chickens, rabbits, pigeons and pigs, than was ever before known. Up in the bone-dry northwest, thousands of families are brewing their own beer. The family drying and canning of vegetables and fruits grows at a great rate. And now the "one-man flour mill" is being introduced, back east. We may yet see mother making father's and little Willie's clothes.

Are we going to return to the practices and customs of our forefathers, supplying ourselves at home with things the supplying of which we have been wont to entrust to the trusts? Is the day of the "journeyman" returning?

Take flour, for instance. Formerly, every little community had its grist mill. The flour turned out therein was cheaper and more nutritious than what we've been getting, but "woman discovered that whiter flour could be made by the roller process. Down went "the Corners" grist mill and wheat raisers sent their grain to Minneapolis, or other far-off points, and finally ate their white flour at a cost that included the transportation both ways.

Looks senseless? Well, it is. But, one day, Mrs. Jones turned out whiter bread than Mrs. Smith, and that settled it. Instead of millions of Mesdames Jones and Smith having cheap bread, great family fortunes were built up for the big millers.

And this wasn't all. In addition, the milling monopolists laid their greedy hands on elevators, terminals and whole railroads, so that they not only dictated the price of wheat and flour but also prices of a good many other things transported. All because Mrs. Jones' patent process flour produced the whiter bread.

It is going to be interesting to watch the career of "the one-man flour mill," an invention which the industrial experts at Washington are fostering. This mill does for wheat just about what a coffee grinder does for coffee. Wheat is put in at one end and flour comes out at the other. Its capacity is about 25 barrels a day, and the mill produces just as good flour as the biggest and finest mill in the world. There are already 1400 of these new mills in operation and the operators report fine results. Each mill stands about as high as the packing case containing an upright piano and looks very much like one.

With such a machine to fight the high cost of bread, why should any community pay tribute to the milling kings? Only because it doesn't know better, isn't it?

WHAT YOUR SUBSCRIPTION MEANS

When you subscribe to a Liberty Loan you subscribe to the sentiment that the world must be made safe for democracy and subscribe to the fund that is to make the world safe for democracy.

You subscribe to the belief that innocent women and children on unarmed ships shall not be sent to the bottom of the sea; that women and children and old men shall not be ravished and tortured and murdered under the plea of military necessity; that nurses shall not be shot for deeds of mercy, nor hospitals and unfortified cities be bombed or cannonaded with long-range guns.

You subscribe to the doctrine that small nations shall have the same rights as great and powerful ones; that might is not right, and that Germany shall not force upon the world the dominion of her military masters.

You subscribe, when you subscribe to a Liberty Loan, to the belief that America entered this war for a just and noble cause; that our soldiers in France and our sailors on the sea are fighting for right and justice.

And you subscribe to the American sentiment that they must and shall be powerful, efficient, and victorious.

HUGHES SEES THE LIGHT

Prime Minister Hughes of Australia, is making addresses in England in support of a policy of protection, and, in one of his speeches, reminded his audience of the fact that before the war Australia sold large quantities of raw material to Germany, which Germany made into finished products and exported, thus securing for German labor the wages paid in manufacture. Hughes wants the British empire to make as large a proportion as possible of its raw materials into finished products. That is a sound policy—one that this country followed as long as the Republicans were in control but which the country abandoned when the administration was turned over to a party that believes in buying where you can buy the cheapest.

ADVERTISING

One thing, at least, we can learn from Germany—the national value of advertising.

Germany got her reputation by advertising lies. Our game now is to advertise the truth, and particularly to advertise to the Germans themselves the nature of our war aims and the full measure of our war preparations.

When we learned the truth about Germany, we started fighting. When the Germans learn the truth about America, they will stop fighting.

A contemporary has suggested that the Germans—so fond of music—may be singing "There's one more river for to cross." Perhaps. But at last accounts it looks more as if the really appropriate sentiment would be "Life is just one verdammt river after another!"

The Bolshevik "government" is now doing its governing under the protection of the German flag, in Kronstadt. How comfortable and natural that must feel to Lenin and Trotsky.

A German general orders his troops to "stop whining". That's one order no Hun can be expected to obey, when he's getting licked.

The celebrated "Wacht am Rhein (Watch on the Rhine) had better get busy.

Coleman Hargett Now Recovering From Operation at Vancouver Barracks

Coleman Hargett, son of Mrs. W. S. Rose of 918 Lacy street, is one of many limited service men who recently went under the knife in order to make themselves fit for army service overseas with the Pershing forces. He was operated upon two weeks ago, and is now recovering from the operation at the Vancouver Barracks hospital, Washington. He expects to be discharged home for three weeks or a month to recuperate before going back to duty, but he is not recovering as fast as expected and he may not be able to make the trip home for two weeks. Mrs. Rose was today awaiting word from his physician as to his exact condition.

Hargett was held for limited service by the local draft board and left July 27 for Vancouver Barracks. He had a chance to fit himself for service overseas through an operation, and took it. He writes that the hospital is crowded with brave boys who are so anxious to "go over" that they voluntarily submitted to operations in the hope of seeing service in France.

TITLES WILL REWARD SOME ITALIAN HEROES

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, Aug. 15. (By Mail)—The Italian College of Heraldry has decided that titles of nobility will be conferred by it in recognition of distinguished services rendered during the war.

These titles will be officially recognized by the Italian government and, being hereditary, will contribute much to re-establishing the old Italian nobility on something of the basis of prestige that it formerly enjoyed.

The conferring of titles of nobility such as baron, count, and marquis in recognition for services rendered to Italy during the war pointed out by the College of Heraldry as merely being a continuation of the custom according to which the great majority of titles of nobility were conferred in the past.

While distribution of decorations not only in Italy but in all allied countries for distinguished war services is largely a personal individual matter for the soldier or officer who has won such a recognition, conferring of titles of nobility will have the distinctive characteristic of recognizing families that have rendered exceptional services to "La Patria."

ENGLISH WOMEN WIN MEDALS FOR BRAVERY

LONDON, Aug. 15. (By Mail)—The first Waac to win the military medal is Unit Administrator Mrs. Margaret A. Campbell Gibson.

She was in charge of a Waac camp which was completely demolished by bombs during an enemy air raid.

Throughout she directed the women with courage and energy. With bombs crashing all around she remained at her post and prevented serious loss of life.

The same award has been made to five nurses.

An ammunition dump had been set on fire by enemy bombs. The only available ambulance for the removal of the wounded had been destroyed.

These nurses, in a neighboring camp, heard of the disaster and drove up with three ambulances, right into the danger zone.

Despite risks from various explosions they succeeded in removing all the wounded to safety.

BY LIEUT. W. A. ROBSON of the Royal Air Force, Author "Aircraft in War and Peace"

(Written for the United Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 3. (By Mail)—What could be more natural than that the airman who forces the hidden power of the atmospheric air to maintain his craft aloft, should again employ that same ether to carry his message to earth. There are other methods of communication, of course, but wireless telegraphy is predominant.

The wireless branch is a very highly specialized department of the Royal air force, and its work is of first-class importance. On land, its chief but not its sole function is concerned with spotting for the artillery. British airplanes fly for hours at a stretch over the German lines; circling comparatively slowly over a given area, they register for the guns below until the work of destruction has been completed.

Far below, in the advanced positions of the field batteries are the wireless telegraphy mechanics receiving corrections by wireless from the airplanes. Their work involves considerable exposure to shell fire.

At sea, wireless is extensively used in connection with submarine chasing. Seaplanes, floating boats and airships carry out long patrols in co-operation with destroyers. Immediately the aircraft sight a U-boat, the destroyers are informed by wireless of its exact location. This method is highly successful, for a submerged submarine which is invisible from sea level can be seen clearly from the air, in good weather. It is a significant fact that every German submarine is fitted with an anti-aircraft gun.

Pilots Pass Tests
Every pilot in the British air service must pass certain tests in wireless telegraphy before he is allowed to graduate; and in consequence at practically every home training station the air is made musical by the sound of many "buzzers."

Enormous strides have been made during the war in the use of wireless telegraphy in aircraft. One of the chief difficulties was to overcome the noise of the engine. But skill and ingenuity conquered this difficulty almost completely. It is not permissible to state just how it was accomplished, for in these matters Germany has not yet discovered the secret of various methods successfully used by the British.

The effective range for wireless transmitted from the air has been largely increased. Not so very long ago the limit was a few miles, but this has now been greatly exceeded by means of the more powerful current provided by electric generators; these generators are run off the airplane engine in the larger machines, and take the place of the comparatively weak accumulators hitherto employed.

Copper Wire Used
The aerial on an aircraft consists of a length of copper wire, with a lead weight on the end, rolled on a drum. This can be wound or unwound at will by the observer; but care must be taken in unwinding, for if the winch is left to run free, the lead weight will snap the wire and render the whole outfit unserviceable in a second. Most people have seen an aerial on board ship; it is the wire stretched horizontally between the masts.

Another form of communication between aircraft and the earth consists of a message bag. This is a long, thin, brightly-colored streamer, with a little weighted pocket at one extremity. The aviator also frequently "talks" by means of a daylight signalling lamp. This is a device for flashing the Morse code, somewhat on the principle of a searchlight, and is chiefly used in flying at low heights when co-operat-

QUEEN WAS REBUKED, WREATH FOR THE KING

LONDON, Aug. 10. (By Mail)—Queen Mary has been corrected in public for the first time.

Recently the king and queen were visiting some day nurseries, and the elder children had arranged to present a bouquet to the queen.

So the king would not be left out of it the infants made for him a crown of laurels.

The queen received her bouquet from one of the elder girls with a gracious smile and many kindly remarks, and then a tiny infant came forward with the laurel wreath. The queen held out her hand.

"It's not for you," cried the infant "It's for the king!"

Whereat both their majesties laughed heartily.

48 PAGES REMOVED FROM MUSIC BOOKS

Two hundred and thirty thousand music textbooks for California schools will appear minus forty-eight pages when distributed for use at the coming school term. The forty-eight pages represent portions of the books on which appeared German folk songs and songs from the German.

In an explanation just sent out by the Commissioner of Elementary Schools at Sacramento, and which is to be pasted into the music textbooks, it is stated that the contract for the books was made in 1915, before the United States entered the war. Rather than destroy a large amount of property, it was decided to cut out the pages on which German songs appeared.

This process eliminated some perfectly patriotic music on the opposite sides of the pages and has left some uncompleted lines of music it will not be possible to utilize in study. Moreover, a new edition is promised "at as early a date as possible."

Y. M. C. A. WAR WORK RECRUITS

(By Rev. G. A. Francis, Chairman of the Orange County Y. M. C. A. War Work Recruiting Committee.)

If a man is "turned down" by the various departments of the Y. M. C. A. war work, after you have been to the trouble and small incidental expense of making a regular application for overseas service, please remember that it has not been caused by some small "snapshot" decision, but because of something of such a serious and defective nature in your credentials, character and recommendations, or your qualifications, physically, educationally, dispositionally or temperamentally that you could not be passed upon favorably with consistency in the light of the rules that are supposed to govern the recruiting boards in the selection of men for overseas duty.

Some men are splendidly qualified physically and educationally, whose dispositions and moral tones would not warrant their appointment. With others it is a shortage along another line. As we have said before, "We are looking for trotting-horses."

The weaknesses that may not be apparent in the ordinary conditions of life, become glaring failures in the strenuous conditions overseas.

Only men whose dependability is beyond question, are fit for overseas duty. The exactions are greater than in any sphere of life here. Insubordination is not in any sense allowable, and a man whose morals are here subject to change under whimsical conditions, are subject to change there under unavoidable pressure. If he is not truthful here in ordinary conditions, he will not be dependable there under any of those conditions. If his morals are uncertain here, they will never be certain there. If he gets exasperated here under small irritations, he'll have plenty over there to make him a maniac.

It is passing strange what a delusive conception some persons have of the magic change that would sweep over them if they were placed in a new set of environments. Most men wake up to find that they have been thinking in a "Fools' Paradise," and that the sweeping changes that they expected would take place in eliminating their faults, failings and weaknesses, have only tended to show up the undependability and irresponsibility of their natures.

We wish it were possible to untie more of our outstanding and well-experienced business men whose careers in the sphere and grind of arduous, busy life have woven into their natures a big sense of responsibility, and concerning whose course of action, when exacting conditions would obtain, there would be no doubt.

Men between 35 and 50 years of age make the best "Y" timber. They are just far enough along in life to still retain the best of manhood. They have shed most of the vacillating qualities and have become invitingly fixed in their habits. They are able to comfortably associate with and intelligently advise and counsel, younger men who make up the ranks of our overseas army. They have had enough experience in business to "know how" if they ever will.

If, Mr. Business Man, when you have read this article, you have a growing conviction that your services would be of high value in this most important and at the present time, much needed field of service, get an application blank and get your credentials under way for appointment for overseas duty. THANKS FOR SUPPORT

I want to thank the voters who gave me their support in the last and previous elections, and while I am not the choice of the district for supervisor for the next four years, I want to say that I shall co-operate in every way possible to do my part as a citizen to make the work of my successor successful. He himself waged a clean, fair campaign, and the entire district ought to co-operate with him. I want now to thank all of those who have helped me in my work as supervisor during the last eight years.

JASPER LECK.

TO MY FRIENDS
While unsuccessful in the primary election, I want to assure all that I am not unmindful of the support that was given me and especially am I grateful for the honor that has been tendered me in the holding of public office for the past few years. My efforts have been to serve the public to the best of my ability in a fair and honest way and I want to voice my appreciation of the confidence that the public has expressed in me.

WESTMINSTER BARNES BRUISED AS LIGHT CAR TURNED OVER ON HIGHWAY

Boys Have Close Call When Horse Backed Surrey Into Large Drainage Ditch

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 30.—Vene Barnes suffered a very severe shaking up last Saturday, when his Ford turned turtle on the boulevard near Blankenbecker's store.

Barnes had been overhauling the machine and was trying it out before replacing the body, when something went wrong and the machine went over. He was quite badly bruised, making it necessary for him to suspend work for a few days. Following the accident he was taken to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Westgate, at Buaro.

Surrey Goes into Ditch
Everett Dunn, who is spending the summer at the E. P. Fowler ranch, had a close call from a serious accident Sunday morning, when the horse he was driving backed into the large drainage canal. Dunn was accompanied by a friend, Axton Chambers of Huntington Park, who was coming to the ranch to spend a week and whom he had met at Cordine's station. When they were a short distance from the Garden Grove boulevard, going south on the Stoves road, they met a Jap in an automobile loaded with farming implements and the horse became frightened when the machine was yet some distance away. Both boys jumped, but before they could reach the horse's head it had backed the surrey into the canal and was partly in itself. The Jap stopped and helped them get the horse extricated and it was found to be none the worse from the fall with the exception of a broken shaft and singletree. Dunn received a few bruises but otherwise the boys escaped unhurt and the horse was not even scratched.

Three to One for Moore
One hundred thirty-six votes out of 185 registered were cast at the primaries at Westminster Tuesday. Moore coming out ahead by a vote of 115 to 38.

The election board was composed of Messrs. H. Anderson, J. McFadden, J. Craig, Francis Penhall, Stone and Nichols.

The ballots were counted by 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.
Beet and Bean Harvest
Tom Kankerviss commenced taking out his beets this last week and the topping crew is now in the field.

W. Dean Johnson and Wells McCoy are the first ranchers in the near vicinity of town to begin cutting beans.

Attend Pioneer's Funeral
Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Byram and Mrs. E. Larter of this place attended the funeral Monday of their old friend, Rev. Fred A. Fields, a pioneer of Westminster and first pastor of the Congregational church here. A number of the early settlers of this community among those present, besides those already mentioned, were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Larter of Wintersburg; J. Y. Anderson and daughter, Mrs. Mary Tilton, of Los Angeles; Miss Lottie Trefthen of Santa Ana; Mrs. Hattie Trefthen of San Pedro; Mrs. Eunice Wood, Mrs. Lois Boyce and Mrs. George Mack of Los Angeles.

The home of the deceased at 239 South Kenwood street, Glendale, was filled with loving friends come to pay their last respects, and the floral display was unusual for its beauty and the large number of floral pieces sent by friends and organizations as a tribute to the reverence in which this noble character was held.

Pictures of the pier, surrounded by the floral offerings and company of friends were taken to send to the mother of the deceased at Berkeley, who, being 90 years of age, was unable to attend.

Rev. Fields passed away at 4:20 o'clock Friday afternoon, lacking just a day of being 66 years old, his birthday anniversary coming on Saturday, August 24.

For nine years the deceased was an employee of the Coulter Dry Goods company of Los Angeles and was also an intimate friend of the Coulter family. It was their custom each year to send him by messenger a beautiful bouquet on his anniversary and instead of waiting until the date this year, they took it the day before, knowing of his weakened condition and wishing him to receive it personally. Only a few hours later death came.

Arthur Hazard Funeral Held
The funeral of Arthur Hazard, little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hazard of Lancaster, was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Smith & Tutthill chapel in Santa Ana, with Rev. Roadhouse of the Christian church of Santa Ana in charge of the service.

The child had been ill for four months from a tumor on the appendix gland, and passed away on Wednesday of last week at their home. An operation was not thought advisable on account of his weakened condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazard came down the next day and the body was sent down for burial later in the week.

Among those from here who attended the funeral were the grandmother, Mrs. B. A. Hazard, aunt, Miss Bertha Hazard, uncle, Robert Hazard, and family, Mrs. W. H. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Phil McClintock and son, Miss Kate Johnson and William Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards entertained George Cooke and family at their home for the day Sunday. The family have been spending the summer at Huntington Beach and left Wednesday of this week for their home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Calloway and three children of Salt Lake City, Utah, were guests Monday afternoon and evening at the W. H. Edwards home. Mrs. Edwards took them to Huntington Beach that evening, and on Tuesday morning they left for their home in Salt Lake City, where Mr. Calloway is employed on the railroad. The family have spent the summer in California.

Mrs. Albert Kettler went to Los Angeles Wednesday last week and returned home Monday with her brother-in-law, John Kettler, and family of Wintersburg. All were guests while in the city of Mr. Kettler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kettler. Mrs. Kettler sent repairs for their machine to her husband in Blythe while in Los Angeles, and as soon as he gets the machine in condition for travel he will drive through, and is expected some time this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoffman drove to Hemet with friends Sunday. Mr. Hoffman returned the same day. Mrs. Hoffman and children remaining for a week's visit.

Mrs. George Abbott and daughter, Mrs. Georgia Newton, and granddaughter, Helen Richards, of Huntington Park spent the week-end with relatives here.

Fred Par, who is in training at the San Diego naval reserve station, was home on Sunday. He was due here Saturday evening but missed his train, and the later one he took did not get him to Santa Ana until Sunday morning, cutting his visit rather short. He took the last jitney into Santa Ana Sunday night to make connections with the 1 o'clock train for camp.

Attend Mrs. Hunt Funeral
Mrs. E. Dickey, daughter, Miss Bertha Dickey, and Mr. and Mrs. Wells McCoy attended the funeral in Santa Ana Monday of Mrs. Mary Hunt, who passed away on Friday of last week. The death was a shock to the family and friends, as Mrs. Hunt was sick just three days and not considered in a serious condition until an hour before she passed away, when she suffered a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Hunt was the mother-in-law of Mrs. Dickey's sister, Mrs. Harry Hunt, of Anaheim.

Miss Jessie McCoy, who has been spending the past week at the home of her brother, Wells McCoy, of this place, returned to her home at Bell Monday, taking with her her niece, Helen McCoy, who will remain as her guest for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mack, the former a brother of Mr. O. B. Byram, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byram Saturday night and Sunday. They returned Sunday evening to their home in Los Angeles.

Memorial for Carroll Byram
The announcement of a memorial service to be held next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Westminster Presbyterian church for W. Carroll Byram was made last Sunday morning. Rev. W. T. Wardle, the pastor, will be in charge of the service.

Jake Price came up from Camp Kearny Saturday and visited over Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lillie Price.

Mrs. Emil Kettler and two children of Wintersburg were Tuesday afternoon visitors at the William Edwards home. Mrs. Sylvia Kettler accompanied her home to remain over night, as she would other wise have been alone, Mr. Kettler being a member of the Wintersburg election board.

Last Rites for Gerald Snow
The last sad rites were said over the remains of little Gerald Snow at the Mission Funeral Parlors of Mills & Winbiger at 3 o'clock Thursday of last week by Rev. Roissy of the local Methodist church.

Gerald, who was the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Snow of this place, passed away Tuesday evening in Santa Ana, where the family are staying for a few months, and would have been 2 years old within four days of his death.

Many friends of the family from this community attended the services, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Harry Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall, Mr. J. Walton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Day, Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mansberger, Mrs. May Mansberger, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Frost, Mrs. C. Waters, Lester Waters, Rev. and Mrs. Roissy.

HE WAIVES HIS EXEMPTION SO HE CAN GO TO ARMY CAMP

Dates Are Received For Entrainment of Two Contingents Next Week

Waiving his deferred classification, Fred J. Crozier of Newport Beach has asked that he be allowed to go to Camp Kearny with the contingent that is to leave here on September 5. Crozier was classified in Class 4A. He has made arrangements so that his wife and family will be taken care of, and on his own request the local board yesterday re-classified him, put him in Class 1, and listed him with those to go in the Camp Kearny contingent.

Entrainment Hours
Orders were received yesterday giving the entrainment hours for the five limited service men who are going to Camp Bowie, Texas. They leave here on September 3 at 5:27, Santa Fe, and will join a special train at Barstow. The five men listed to go are Lee Brown, 7171, Garfield; Henry W. Wolfe, 1514 Durant; Charles W. Burr, 1028 West Fifth; Paul E. Martin, now of San Bernardino, formerly of Santa Ana; Charles H. Mooney, San Francisco.

These limited service men were taken in the order of their order numbers. Mooney, the last on the list, has an order number of 395 in the old registration list.

The time for the departure of the forty-four men going to Camp Kearny is definitely set for 10:25 a. m., September 5. With the men who will be sent for the local district will go two men for San Diego. They are Robert L. Shaw, employed on the Sleeper & Waller ranch in the Trabuco, and Charles L. Freed, employed in a garage in Santa Ana.

Begin Registering
Chief Clerk Overshiner has registered six men who are due to register under the new registration. These men have stated that they will not be in Santa Ana on Saturday, September 7, the date of the registration, and have filled out and signed their cards in advance. They are Angel Vasquez, A. W. Rutan, E. L. Vegey, C. T. Johnson, V. A. Rossiter and C. S. Kelley.

Monday, Sept. 2d, Labor Day, will as usual be observed, as a holiday, by members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, and it is recommended that business houses close for the day.

Among the many of England's nobility doing war work is Lady Chesham, daughter of the late John Layton Mills. OH, YES, FRED, INITIALS ARE WORN IN FRANCE

By LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 6. (By Mail.)—The young lieutenant, having had twelve days and nights of scarcely interrupted fighting in the region of the German push, was in a pretty bad way for clothes.

The uniform he wore was that of a private and it didn't fit him. Only the silver bar on his shoulders indicated his rank. Before he volunteered, as a private, he had been somewhat careful as to his clothes; his natural inclination running that way and his business as a bond broker in New York requiring it. But he didn't worry much on the subject, saying if the colonel could get along in a private's uniform, he could.

"However," he said, "I'll have to have a new hanky pretty soon." With a grin and a blush that none of his fellow bond salesmen ever had seen on his face, he pulled from his pocket an irregular and ragged square of white linen.

"Where'd I get it? Well, we stopped for a few hours in an abandoned farm house and some of us didn't have any handkerchiefs—and, well, one of the fellows found a lady's nightie and—and we tore it up and made us some handkerchiefs. One of the others got the piece" with the embroidered initial on it.

HEINIES WARNED TO QUIT THEIR TELLING OF SECRETS

Ludendorff Testifies to Efficiency of American Army Intelligence Service

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, Aug. 2. (By mail.)—Copies of an order issued June 10 by Ludendorff and which have just been captured from German prisoners reveal the fact that Germany's plans for a victorious offensive on the western front are steadily being thwarted by information given the French and Allied commands by German prisoners.

That the German soldier has become so weary of the war that when he is taken prisoner he makes no effort to conceal what he knows about the German's offensive plans becomes only too apparent in the order issued by Ludendorff in which he freely admits that two of the big German drives of this year have been checked partly as a result of information divulged by German prisoners. The order, which is as follows, indicates an astounding decrease in the morale, discipline and patriotism of German soldiers, undoubtedly worn out by the length of the war and the repeated failure of the imperial high command's promises to attain a quick and victorious peace:

"Chief of the General Staff of Grand General Headquarters, The Armies in the Field, June 10, 1918.

"A captured document coming from the 2d French army and dated May 26, proves that German soldiers belonging to the 17th division of infantry, captured as prisoners north of the Chemin des Dames during the night of May 25 and 26, revealed to the enemy our impending attack.

Told All They Knew
"Very probably they told all that they knew about the preparations made in their sector and in the adjacent sectors. The enemy was thus able to know precious details concerning the hour, the form of our attack, the artillery preparation, the units engaged, etc! etc!

"Another document, dated May 26, which has come into our hands, also shows that the enemy, awaiting our attack, gave warning to their troops against our gas, and were able to bring into position on the heights between the Aisne and the Vesle the reserves. (The 13th French division) which they were holding on this portion of the front. The resistance of this division cost the lives and limbs of many German soldiers.

"Without the treason committed by these two prisoners, the surprise of May 27 would have succeeded completely, and the success might even have been much greater than it really was.

"It has likewise been established that our attack of June 9 was known to the enemy through the declaration of prisoners, which alone enabled the enemy to be prepared for this attack. "We are struck by the precision and richness in details of the information which the enemy is able to secure from German prisoners.

"Orders Without Ceasing
"I demand that orders be given to instruct without ceasing and in the most extreme detail the troops both in the field and those in the interior, on the conduct to be maintained in case they are taken prisoner, and that they be made to see the shameful character and the terrible consequences of an attitude similar to that of above.

"I demand equally that the armies publish in the newspapers and journals that they edit the text of the present order and that articles be written based upon it.

"The great majority of the men who have the misfortune to be taken prisoner fail to realize (deserters to the contrary) the degree with which their declarations concerning even insignificant objects, not only place in peril the lives of their comrades, but compromise the success of our attacks and raids.

The infamous conduct of some of these prisoners can even have repercussions extremely important on the final victorious issue of the war; they can even cause the most grave damages to the fatherland as a whole.

"The soldier who refuses to talk, honors himself, retains his conscience and self-respect in his own eyes, in those of his supreme chief, in those of his country and finally enforces the respect of the adversary.

Dental Trust Must Go

Amendment to Dental Law Breaks Power of Combine and Safeguards Interests of All

PAINLESS PARKER

More than 125,000 Californians have asked to have the Dental Law amended.

If you knew how the present Dental Law operates you would realize that never has there been greater reason for change in a law.

Dental laws are made at the command of a combine of political dentists for their own profit, under the excuse, "protection for the people."

This permits them to fix high prices, and hold them high, by regulating competition.

High prices make a luxury of dentistry and put it out of reach of eighty per cent of the people.

This amendment brings dentistry within reach of all the people.

It secures the services of highly skilled dentists, permitted to charge reasonable fees.

It permits dentists to give openly to the public information the people should have about the care of their teeth.

Yes! I have personal interest in this measure.

The Dental Trust seeks to ruin those it cannot control, depriving the people of fair prices which come only through competition.

Huge sums of money are being used to cloud the issue, so that the interests of the people may be made secondary to the profits of the dentists.

This is your fight to make it possible for people of moderate means to save their teeth.

End this autocracy.

The Dental Amendment will be No. 21 on the ballot.

WINTERSBURG GOTHARDS RETURNED FROM MOTOR TRIP TO SAN FRANCISCO

WINTERSBURG, Aug. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gothard have returned home from a delightful motor trip to San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Gothard left here two weeks ago with a party of Los Angeles friends who made the trip in their own car. They followed the Ridge Route, making the trip in two days, a stop over being made for the night at Fresno.

Mrs. Gothard has a brother in San Francisco with whom they visited, taking side trips to adjoining cities and points of interest. A part of the time was spent with an uncle and aunt at Palo Alto and the most enjoyable trip of all was to Camp Fremont, where they spent one day. Several boys from Los Angeles and some from Mrs. Gothard's former home town were located at the camp and they were given a royal welcome by them and shown everything worth seeing. They went through the trenches, visited the hostess house, the National Defenders Club and many other points of interest about camp.

Mr. Gothard's brother, Joe Gothard, was at Camp Fremont at the time of their visit there but they did not know it until their return here, the word of his transfer from Camp Lewis having been received by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gothard too late to let the party know of it before leaving on the return trip.

Attend Airmen's Graduation
A part of one day was spent at the aviation school at Berkeley where the party witnessed the graduation of twenty-eight aviators. They also witnessed a ball game at Camp Fremont on Tuesday before leaving for home on Wednesday.

Hear From Soldier Son
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gothard heard from both their soldier-son sons this week. The card sent from New York following the safe arrival of Geo. Gothard, Jr., was received on Monday of this week, and on Tuesday a letter was received from Joe Gothard who has been lately transferred from Camp Lewis to Camp Fremont. He seems to be liking army life much better at Fremont.

Mrs. B. A. Farrar entertained at a delightful 2 o'clock dinner Thursday in honor of Mrs. Ella Forrest. The hostess and lady guests spent the afternoon with thimble and needle and social chat.

Mrs. E. Ray Moore, sister, Mrs. Ella Forrest, Mrs. G. M. Robinson and mother, Mrs. Jerusha Harlan, drove to Orange last Friday and were guests for the day of Mrs. Ed. Moore. Miss Lizzie Gothard was home from Los Angeles for the day, Tuesday.

Mrs. C. N. Davis was a business visitor at Huntington Beach Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan and family with Mr. and Mrs. John Nankervis and family of Westminster, and Mrs. Nankervis' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Oakland, who were guests at their home, formed a picnic party to Laguna Beach, last Sunday.

Now Are Grandparents
Mrs. Ross is rather expecting the announcement that we are getting old," remarked Rev. M. Ross, apropos to revealing the news that they are grandparents. The word was received this week from Arizona of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Burkes. Mrs. Burkes is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ross.

Sunday Church Notice
Rev. Ross is rather expecting an old friend of his, a minister from Arizona, to preach for him at the 11 o'clock service next Sunday morning if the present plans carry, and if not Rev. Ross will fill the pulpit himself. At the evening service Rev. Ross announces as his subject, "Society's Debt to the Producing Classes," dealing with the present labor situations.

Mrs. B. A. Farrar was hostess at dinner Friday to some of her lady friends, those enjoying the day with her being Mrs. Virginia Preston of Huntington Beach, Mrs. Kate Frenger and Mrs. Clemens of Wintersburg.

An eight pound son was born Thursday at the Garden Grove hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tamura. Mr. Tamura is the missionary in charge of the Wintersburg Japanese Mission. Springdale Open Sept. 9

The Springdale school will open Monday, Sept. 9, with Mrs. W. R. Stanley of this place and Miss Bertha Pann of Huntington Beach as teachers.

Mrs. Geo. Gerhart entertained at her home for the day Tuesday, Mrs. Virginia Preston of Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Ellis Davis and little son of Hermosa Beach arrived Tuesday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Davis. Mrs. Davis expected to return to her home Saturday.

Mrs. G. M. Robinson, mother Mrs. Jerusha Harlan and Mrs. Carl Farrar of Huntington Beach attended a dinner Wednesday, given by the ladies of the Methodist church in the church dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruoff and family spent Sunday afternoon at Seal Beach, the children enjoying the greater part of the time frolicking in the water.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Orders will be issued soon by the War Department prohibiting mourning insignia on uniforms. With the increasing casualty lists and with 423 sick and wounded officers and men landed this week the War Department does not intend to encourage the practice of officers wearing crepe bands on sleeves. Similar orders have been issued in the Allied countries. England prohibits the wearing of mourning by civilians as well as the army.

GILMAKER BLOCK WILL HAVE NEW FRONTS

Joe Gilmaker Today Authorizes Plans For Improvements In Property

Improvement in the Gilmaker block at the corner of Fourth and Broadway are to be made as soon as plans can be drawn and the contract for the work let, Jos. Gilmaker, who has been here from San Francisco for the past week, today authorized B. A. Elwing to draft plans for completely modernizing the fronts of the store buildings and for extending them to the alley opening on Broadway. The improvements will cost approximately $8000.

Gilmaker long has had such improvements in contemplation and action today is the result of conditions developing that made it possible for the work to proceed. Nothing will stop the progress of the plans except drastic action resulting from the war. Provision will be made also for the addition of another story to the buildings after the war and when material conditions have been returned to normal. Intents for carrying the second story will be put in at this time and the second story would be completed at this time were it not for the shortage of steel and the fact that the government requires all the available supply.

The start of the actual work in reconstructing buildings that have been landmarks in Santa Ana for years will depend entirely upon the length of time required to get the plans developed and approved, the contract let and the material on the ground.

TUBBS, WHITNEY COMMISSIONED LIEUTENANTS

Two Santa Anans Who Went Away In the Draft Work Up Into Officers

Will Lester Tubbs and Clyde C. Whitney, both of Santa Ana, have won commissions as second lieutenants.

Through their success, it is again proven that the drafted man has a chance to work up into a place as a commissioned officer. Tubbs and Whitney left Santa Ana as drafted men last fall. Each had previously tried to get into the officers' training school and had failed on account of physical disabilities. Arriving at Camp Lewis, after training there, they were selected from the draft companies for training as officers.

Clyde C. Whitney was transferred to Camp Johnstone, Fla., for training in the legal department, but he was given transportation department training. Just before his commission arrived he was ordered into a contingent of officers to go overseas for administration duties. Lieutenant Whitney may be on the seas now.

Lieutenant Tubbs is here on a visit with his relatives. On Monday he expects to start back to Camp Lewis, where he attended officers' training school and where he received his commission last week. He does not know what his assignment may be. He may be retained for training of drafted men or he may be sent to some other camp for similar duty. Lieutenant Tubbs has gained in weight and is in the best of health and spirits, anxious to get to France and into active service.

PAUSE SUNDAY TO HEAR WINNING WAR PLANS

Government Talks Will Explain Purposes of War Societies

Residents of Orange county who are interested in the winning of the war—and every resident should be—should make it a point Sunday to attend one of the four meetings to be held in Orange county in promotion of the organization of War Savings Societies requested by the government.

The meetings will be held at Balboa at 2 p. m., Huntington Beach at 4 p. m., Santa Ana at 7:30 p. m. and Anaheim at 8 p. m. The meeting in Santa Ana will be held at Birch Park.

The Submarine Band at Fort McArthur will give a concert at each place, and in addition there will be vocal and instrumental soloists. Some of the best talent coming to California from the East has been conscripted for the entertainments to be held for several months, and with them will be a number of prominent speakers.

The soloists for next Sunday will be Daisy Morgan Austin, soprano; Morts Nathan, tenor; May Brooke, and Judge H. N. Wells, the latter singing bass. The speakers will be Judge H. N. Wells, Thomas A. Berkeley, W. P. Battelle and Morris Ankrum.

The government has realized that the people of this country have not as yet gotten the proper viewpoint in the matter of economy and saving necessary to win this war and save the people from extreme hardships before the end of the war. Neither have they the correct view of the War Savings societies—their purpose and what may be attained through them.

Speakers at the meetings will enlighten on the government's plans for the organization of the societies, and the address of Judge Wells, alone, is worth the time and attention of the most busy man or woman in the county.

Everyone is requested to pause in his pursuit of pleasure next Sunday for just one hour and hear what the government has to say through the men who will be in the county for that purpose.

The speakers and musicians will be divided so that the evening meetings at Santa Ana and Anaheim may proceed at practically the same hours.

There are nearly a thousand seats at the park, but those who have camp stools are requested to bring them. Automobileists will be requested not to operate their machines around the park while the speakers are talking—and officers will probably be there to see that the request is obeyed, should any attempt be made to disregard it.

The war is everybody's war—learn how it is to be won and what each individual can do to contribute to that success. A better war spirit must be brought about.

Efforts are being made to have the Sunday evening union church services suspended for Sunday evening, in order that all may attend the concert and speaking.

TOMATO BUYERS ELIMINATED AS COMPETITORS

Food Administration Rules That One Must Not Interfere With Another

Frank H. Sufel, license commissioner of the Food Administration for Southern California, announced that the Government will not tolerate any interference with this year's tomato pack by unscrupulous purchasers of fresh fruits who may try to buy crops already contracted for.

"The rules of the Food Administration forbid any dealer in tomatoes from purchasing from the growers any tomatoes which have been previously contracted for," Sufel says.

'THE LINE HELD' CARROL BYRAM STATED IN LETTER

Westminster Man In Casualty
List Today; Killed In a Railroad Accident

"The point is that the line held," Corporal Carroll Byram of Westminster stated in a letter to his parents written on July 21, four days before his death in a railroad accident in France, referring to the hard fighting in which the German offensive at the Marne was stopped. Byram's name appears in the official casualty list in the Register today.

Apparently Byram was in the battle from July 15 on. Newspaper reports were that the Rainbow division moved from the Champagne front to Fere-en-Tardenois and the railway accident in which Byram was fatally injured probably occurred in moving, and was mentioned in the papers at the time. In a letter to his brother, Roy M. Byram, at Galveston, received August 19, Carroll Byram wrote he had been through a gas attack safely.

Information received today apparently shows that Walter Smith of Los Angeles, cousin of Mrs. Olive Lopez of Santa Ana, met his death in the same accident which caused Byram's death. Information received by Smith's mother was that nineteen men were in the detachment, involved in a railway accident, ten of the men being killed and eight wounded. Smith had only been in France four days and was in the medical department. The major's wife wrote Mrs. Smith that the men were honored with a beautifully impressive funeral, with loads of flowers, and a representative of the French government present. Each grave was carefully marked so the bodies could be returned to the United States after the war. Each grave was "adopted" by a French family.

Byram's Last Letter
What was probably Byram's last letter, written July 21 and received here August 27, over a month after his death, reads as follows:

E. Co. 117 Engineers, American E. F., France.
Le Foyer Du Soldat, Union Franco-Americaine, C 21 July.

The letters you sent on June the ninth came yesterday and I was glad to get them as we were back of the lines for a short rest after the fight. I am safe and well and after a couple days' rest I am feeling fine.

I think that the papers you send all get here all right. The boys always like to look at the pictures of the war that are in the Illustrated Review. The razor blades came all right. I don't know what I would have done without them. I may need some heavy sox next winter but I have plenty now. Everything we own we have to carry and I have to carry an automatic rifle that weighs about twenty-five pounds. I understand that we are to be used as fighting troops from now.

I would like to tell of all I have seen during the last week but so much has happened that I can't. We went through one of the heaviest bombardments of the war, they say. Then we went and took our positions in the line as supports to the first line.

I have seen aeroplane fights and a balloon set on fire and fall. Yesterday I saw a German aeroplane fall. It had two men in it.

As for the dead horses and men—I won't say anything. You can imagine that. The point is that the line held, and now I hear that the German drive went to pieces.

I have been making up for lost sleep lately. The whole thing seems like a dream and a long time ago.

I am safe but we had some awful close shaves during the big offensive and some were not so lucky as I. I am going to write a long letter and tell about it sometime when I can. Hoping you are all well,

Yours,

CARROLL.

OVERPRODUCTION OF BEANS NOT EXPECTED

Dry Season Affects Production In Different Parts of State

The farmers of this state need have no fear about an over-production of beans this year, and a consequent depression of prices, according to George A. Turner, president of the California Bean Growers' association. His forecast is based not only on the reports of the United States bureau of crop estimates, but on individual reports received by the statistical department of the California Bean Growers' association from its growers members.

Mr. Turner calls attention to the fact that there is a wide difference between a normal crop and the crop of 1917. Last year the production went much above the average per acre, and even a 90 per cent of normal production this year would be far below last year's output. Besides, fresh reports from Michigan, Oregon and other competitive bean sections suggest that this year's production may be much less than usual on account of frosts, pests and other adverse conditions.

low normal. While the outlook for pinks is encouraging in the most important districts where they are grown, the acreage is much less than last year, and subnormal conditions ranging from 75 per cent down to 25 per cent are reported from some of the dry sections. Red Kidneys and Red Mexicans, which are grown largely in Stanislaus county, are reported to be about 75 per cent of normal. Black Eyes and Teparies, which are planted usually in the dry districts, and are not so easily affected by drought, range from 75 per cent to 100 per cent of normal.

The reports from the United States bureau of crop estimates check closely with reports received by the statistical department of the California Bean Growers' association, direct from its grower members.

Mr. Turner calls attention to the fact that there is a wide difference between a normal crop and the crop of 1917. Last year the production went much above the average per acre, and even a 90 per cent of normal production this year would be far below last year's output. Besides, fresh reports from Michigan, Oregon and other competitive bean sections suggest that this year's production may be much less than usual on account of frosts, pests and other adverse conditions.

HOUSE-TOP AIR RAIDING OVER MANNHEIM IS DESCRIBED

Machines Avoid High Barrage and Drop Deadly Bombs From 200-ft. Altitude

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Describing for the United Press today the house-to-house air raid over Mannheim the night of August 25, an officer of the Royal Independent Air Force today declared it an "extraordinary and unparalleled feat of war."

"It struck terror into the heart of every citizen," he declared. "According to documentary and other evidence we have accumulated in other raids, we knew Mannheim was one of the best defended Rhine cities and this time we decided upon a fresh method of attack."

"We approached the city over a large stretch of hostile territory, attaining the usual high altitudes. The night was clear. The black mass of the city was seen far below, silhouetted in the moonlight, beside the curving Rhine railway."

"The Germans signalled our approach and here and there the arches put up spasmodic shells. As soon as we were over the outskirts of the city the German gunners got to work in earnest. There was a terrific outbreak of barrage fire, which burst at the height we had maintained on previous raids."

"After a careful survey of our bearings, taking in the military objectives we began a nerve-rending two-mile dive. Down we went, on our noses, wires of the machine breaking in spots and the air whistling and humming as the speed indicator's hand crept from 90 to 100 and then to 120 and 150 miles an hour. We swept down in this fashion until we were a bare 200 feet above the city. Thousands of feet above us the enemy barrage was bursting in stars of fiery light."

"When diving the city seemed to be flying toward us in a black mass which dissolved as the wider streets became visible. This split the city into small masses. It seemed as though we could almost touch the spires and chimneys of the buildings. Each brick and crevice was visible in the moonlight."

"Soon we were skimming over the house-tops, steeply banking now and then to avoid the higher buildings. Quickly swinging our noses around, we flew toward the appointed military objectives—no hospitals, no nursing homes, no indiscriminate bombing for the British—and released our bombs."

"The German gunners depressed their guns at the lowest possible angle but the arches are not mounted so as to hit machines at a height of 200 feet and the hail of shells burst harmlessly over us, roofing the squadron with a mantle of smoke, shot through with scarlet fire."

"Dazzling beams from scores of searchlights made the city light as day, illuminating the buildings and actually guiding us toward our targets. The crashing burst of the barrage fire and of the rattle of the machine guns combined in one great crescendo of tumult as we wound in and out."

"We were so low that we dropped our bombs with the deadliest precision. Every missile found a billet."

"Bumping and swaying wild in the explosive concussions of our bombs, we opened the throttle and sped westward, keeping low until away from the batteries. There we regained our height and flew homeward without the loss of a single machine."

"Mannheim is an immensely important poison gas manufacturing center and had huge munitions plants which have supplied the ammunition for the French sector of the western front."

COREOPSIS CLUB MET
WITH MRS. LAMBERT

TUSTIN, Aug. 30.—A pleasant meeting of the Coreopsis Club was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Lambert. The social spirit among the east-end neighbors is kept up by the busy members of the club, and at the same time various kinds of needle work are finished up.

Those present were Mrs. Ann Swartz, Mrs. Alton Alderman, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Claude Norton. Guests of the club were Miss Avis Smith, Mrs. Aaron Osmun, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. G. W. Gulick. The hostess served sherbet and cake.

Killed by Poisons

All scientists agree that poisonous products in the blood are eliminated by the kidneys and liver. The kidneys act as a kind of filter for these products. When the kidneys are changed or degenerated, by disease or old age, then these poisons are retained in the body. If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals to flush the kidneys. Then procure at your nearest drug store Anuric. This Anuric drives the uric acid out. Scientific men have learned that in gout, also rheumatism, poisonous uric acid crystals are deposited in or about the joints, in the muscles—where inflammation is set up.

If we wish to keep our kidneys in the best condition a diet of milk and vegetables, with only little meat once a day, is the most suitable. Drink plenty of pure water, take Anuric three times a day for a month. An-u-ric is many times more potent than lithia and dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.

You can obtain a trial package of Anuric by writing Doctor V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., enclosing 10 cents.

MARION J. LEISTER writes: "I want to say in reference to Anuric that I think it is wonderful. My back was so bad when I stooped a few minutes I could scarcely straighten up. I don't think it was more than two days after I began taking Anuric until I saw it was helping me. After using one package I was completely cured, that's saying a great deal for it, as I am over 60 years of age."

RED CROSS BOOTH IS

In Tomorrow; Junior
Girls Hard at Work

TUSTIN, Aug. 30.—The Tustin Red Cross booth is still a popular place. The people have responded generously in the matter of vegetable and fruit donations. At present there is a call for tomatoes to can. If there is any one who has tomatoes to donate, they can be easily disposed of at the booth.

There will be no sock yarn to be given out on Monday afternoon. This being the end of the summer season, all work and yarn is expected to be turned in at this time. Notice of the fall work will be given as soon as reports are checked.

All the sweater yarn has been knitted and seven sweaters will be turned in tomorrow.

The eighth grade Junior Red Cross girls have been holding their regular meetings with Mrs. Charles Bowman every Tuesday afternoon. They have accomplished good work in making little undergarments and baby bonnets. Next Tuesday afternoon the last work meeting will be held and all the members of the class are urged to be on hand at Mrs. Bowman's home.

TUSTIN, Aug. 30.—The regular meeting of the Tustin Chamber of Commerce was held Monday night at the school house. The meeting opened with the president, I. L. Marchant, in the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, a notice of meeting of Associated Chambers of Commerce at Laguna Beach was given. Several committees reported progress, but as August has been a vacation month, no actual work has been done as to street signs or other improvements.

H. W. Lewis had been invited to attend the meeting representing the board of directors of the water company to give an explanation of the situation in regard to open irrigation ditches in Tustin. The open ditches in proximity to the school house and elsewhere in Tustin have long been a menace to the lives of little children, but the company has never seen its way clear to have them piped under-ground. Difficulties have arisen in locating the ditches and the unsightly gates inside the grounds or in the streets. After going over the matter, Mr. Lewis advised that the committee go over the territory with a representative of the company and find out the length of the line to be covered and then submit a proposition as to what part of the expense the property owners are willing to meet. Over their whole territory covered by the water company there are seventeen miles of pipes not covered.

The next meeting will be held the fourth Monday evening in September.

OVER $1000 THROUGH
RED CROSS BRANCH
SINCE FORMATION$104.90 Paid on Pledges During July, Report Shows at Meeting Last Friday

TUSTIN, Aug. 30.—The monthly meeting of the Tustin Red Cross branch was held last Friday afternoon at the school house, the chairman, Mrs. Daugherty, presiding.

Mrs. O. A. Leiby was appointed secretary pro tem in the absence of Mrs. A. M. Lindsey and her representative, Mrs. S. W. Stanley. Mrs. Leiby read minutes of last meeting and was then relieved by Mrs. Stanley. The treasurer's report showed that the Tustin branch has handled over $1000 up to August 1, this being the third meeting since organizing. The pledges paid in July were $104.90.

Report of the Monday sewing class was given by Mrs. E. E. Smith. Extension of time has been given to September 13, when all garments now on hand will be finished and turned in to headquarters. A similar report was given for the Tuesday and Wednesday classes. Mrs. F. T. Preble, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, gave a report of the work of that committee. Plans have been made for an entertainment for the benefit of the Tustin branch under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vance at the new walnut house on east First street, Santa Ana. Mr. Vance reported two-thirds of the floor laid and the date of the entertainment would depend upon the time necessary to finish the floor, within about two weeks.

Miss Hazel Bemus of Santa Ana, in charge of the Junior Red Cross work, was called upon to speak of that. The situation was gone over thoroughly and the conclusion was that the work would continue just as it had been, there being no indication of a change at present. A discussion followed as to the meaning of the word "salvage."

No report from Civilian Relief work. No report from committee on beans and apricot pits.

MRS. DOOLEY'S ADVICE TO WORKING GIRLS

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I wish all girls who work and suffer from functional disorders would profit by my advice and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I was married, when I came home from work at night, I would be just worn out with pains which dragged me down. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel like a new woman. I can work from morning until night and it does not bother me, and I wish all girls who suffer as I did would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. H. DOOLEY, 1135 25th Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Working girls everywhere should profit by Mrs. Dooley's experience, and instead of dragging along from day to day with a burden, give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It has overcome just such conditions for thousands of others, and why not for you? For special advice, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

The Waging of War and the Prince of Peace

(By Rev. J. G. Kennedy, Pastor of the United Presbyterian Church. Sermon preached at union meeting at the First Christian Church, Santa Ana.)

"The Waging of War and the Prince of Peace." Ps. 72:1-8; Micah 4:1-5; Amos 1:3-6, 9, 11, 13; 2:1, 4, 6; Rom. 12:14, 18-21; 13:1-4.

I hate war. I love peace. I have preached peace as the gospel of the kingdom of heaven. I have denounced war as the outcroppings of the horrors of hell. Yet I find myself enthusiastically for war, relentless war unto a completely victorious end. I find myself rejoicing in the slaughter of our enemies in large numbers. I have well nigh ceased to pray for millions of my fellow men. Many other Christians are in the same uncomfortable situation.

Have we lost our Christianity? Have we gotten out of harmony with the meek and lowly Jesus who lived a life of non-resistance and taught the gospel of forgiveness and love, even to our enemies? Can we be the followers of Jesus and deliberately go to war in order that we may kill those for whom Christ died? Many good people think not, and refuse to go to war; others are greatly distressed over the matter.

Some Things to Remember

1. God, who gives life and sustains it according to His good pleasure, has a right to terminate it when and how He will, whether by sickness, accidents, calamities, through the forces of nature, or at the hands of constituted government.

2. God is unchangeable in His character. "The same yesterday, today, and forever." He is infinite and unchangeable in His being wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness, love and truth.

"The same God that smote Sodom with fire, Egypt in the Red Sea, the Canaanites with the sword, and Israel at the hands of her enemies, gave His only and well beloved Son that 'whosoever believeth in Him might not perish but have everlasting life.' He loved men just as much when He executed judgments upon them because of sin as He did when He provided them a Savior from sin. The God of the Old Testament is the God of the New Testament.

The true God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, "equal in power and glory," were as fully in accord in meting out penalties to evil doers as in ministering mercy to penitents.

3. Christ Jesus should be known by all that is written of Him in the Word of God; not merely by what is found in the Gospels.

Men are urged to "Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and ye perish from the way when His wrath is kindled but a little."—Ps. 2:12. Men are pictured crying to the rocks and mountains to fall on them and hide them "From the wrath of the Lamb."—Rev. 6:16. Think of the doom which Jesus pronounced upon Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum (Matt. 11:20-28. Sodom and was to fare better in the judgment than they. . . . Jesus' eyes burned with anger (Mark 3:5) and His hand wielded the scourge of cords upon the backs of temple desecrators (John 2:15) and His lips framed the sentence, "Depart from Me, ye cursed, into the eternal fire." The Jesus of the Bible is no putty man.

4. The Christ of the New Testament was the Jehovah of the Old Testament. God has always dealt with men, in covenant through the second person of the trinity. We are now not under the dispensation of the Son but of the Holy Spirit. The dispensation of the Son was before and during His incarnation.

Now read your American Revision Bibles with the name Jehovah restored to its proper place. "Jehovah will swallow them up in His wrath." "Jehovah strong and mighty, Jehovah mighty in battle." Jehovah ordered many of the wars in which Israel was engaged.

5. God's will for men is equally authoritative whether revealed by His providences, His prophets, His Son, or His disciples.

6. Our attitude toward war should be that of God, the Father, Son and Spirit, as revealed in His whole Word and not merely His attitude as shown in a small part of His written Word.

Now let us come to

1. God hates war. "Him that loveth violence, His soul I hate." (Ps. 11:5.) "Jehovah abhorreth the blood-thirsty." (Ps. 5:6.) When "The earth was filled with violence" God destroyed it with a flood. God's anger burned in unquenchable fury against Damascus, Gaza, Tyre, Edom, Ammon and Moab because of their heartless cruelty in war. Read the first and second chapters of Amos.

David, the man of war, could not be allowed to build a temple for the worship of Jehovah. War has absolutely no place in any of the pictures given of the coming millenium under the rule of the Prince of Peace. If then we hate war we are in accord with God who hates it as one of the violent fruits of sin.

2. God has commanded war. Moses was commanded to wage war on Midian, "To execute Jehovah's vengeance on Midian." (Num. 31:1-3.) Joshua was sent on a war of extermination against all the nations in Canaan and Jehovah gave directions as to the plan of campaign. Jehovah sent, Deborah and Gideon, and Jephthah, and Samuel into wars by explicit command. David was commissioned to wage war upon the Philistines and was given the sign of the moving of the mulberry trees by which to time his attack.

Read any of the historical books of the Bible and you will soon find that Jehovah often made use of war in His dealings with nations.

Deuteronomy is full of promises of help for God's people when they are thrust into war. Could God have commanded the United States more imperatively to get into the present war than He has done? Did He not literally thrust us into it against our will with no material gain to be reaped and with appalling sacrifices in money and in precious blood in full view? Yet God hath thrust it upon us and woe be to us if we falter until the terrible task assigned is finished.

Expected to Fight

3. God expects His people to fight when He orders war. Read Judges 5:23:

"Curse ye Meroz, saith the angel of Jehovah,

"Curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof;

"Because they came not to the help of Jehovah,

"To the help of Jehovah against the mighty."

Try this statement from Psalm 78:

(9) "The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows,

(60) "So He forsook the tabernacle of Shilo,

(61) "And delivered his strength into captivity,

"And his glory into the adversary's hand.

(67) "Moreover He refused the tent of Joseph,

"And chose not the tribe of Ephraim."

Saul lost his kingdom for failure to exterminate the Amalekites when God had commanded him to do so. His excuses of saving goods for sacrifice availed him nothing. When God commands judgment executed He will not be appeased by partial performance.

Israel failed to carry out God's program of destruction upon the Canaanite nations whose cup of iniquity was full and she suffered for it throughout all her after history. Soldiers are guilty of a most heinous crime when they refuse to fight at the command of their officers. Shall we be found guiltless if we refuse to fight at the command of our God?

4. God punished national sins by wars. His instruments of judgment have usually been the forces of nature, pestilence, famine and war. The sins of individuals may be punished in the next life. The sins of nations must be punished, if at all, while they are on the earth. If God is just He must punish the guilt of nations as surely as He does the guilt of individuals.

In all those wars of the past, of which we have an inspired record, the history is written from God's viewpoint and the guilt which caused God to send the war is emphasized. In the case of many of those nations with which the Bible record deals they had filled up the full measure of their guilt and God sent other nations against them to remove them from the face of the earth by war.

In the case of Israel war was sent to chasten it, bring it to repentance and reform, that it might be forgiven and be restored to God's favor because of its righteous national life. This helps to the understanding of the losses often suffered by the nation which is more nearly in line with the law of God. Something like this view caused the poet to write

"Right forever on the scaffold,

Wrong forever on the throne;

Yet that scaffold sways the future

And behind the dim unknown

Standeth God, within the shadow,

Keeping watch above His own."

5. The sins of England, France, Russia, Italy and the United States will account for the terrible price of victory. God has ordained governments to execute His vengeance on evil doers. (Rom. 13:1-7.) In the twelfth chapter the individual Christian is exhorted to bless those that persecute them, to avenge not themselves, to give food and water to their enemies. "Vengeance belongeth unto Me."

"I will recompense, saith the Lord."

Then follows, "The powers that be are ordained of God."

"If thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is a minister of God, an avenger of wrath to him that doeth evil."

We all recognize the fact that a nation that does not avenge speedily and adequately wrongs of every sort with in its own borders has failed of its God-given mission and has no longer any excuse for existence. If the nation is God's instrument for the ministration of justice within its own borders, who will argue that the God of all the nations of the earth may not use one nation to execute His judgments upon another? Now God has called our nation to avenge the deluging of three continents with innocent blood, the filling of the world with mourning, the perpetration of every demonic act of perfidy and pitiless cruelty.

As citizens of this government, an integral part of God's instrument of vengeance, we must yield ourselves unreservedly to His use until He shall have destroyed from the earth that materialistic philosophy which seeks to overthrow all those principles of love, mercy and justice which He has taught so clearly, so persistently, so lovingly through His prophets and through His Son, which He has certified to us in the blood of His Son and sought to apply to our hearts by the power of His Holy Spirit. We be to us if we stop before God's vengeance is fully executed against a world's assassin.

The Prince's Dominion of Peace. 1. God sent His Son preaching the gospel of peace and good will. The kingdom of God was at hand. John the Baptist proclaimed it, Jesus proclaimed it. He sent His disciples to proclaim it. He announced its laws in the Sermon on the Mount. He lived in accordance with the laws of that kingdom. But men would not have it so. They refused the kingdom; they crucified the King. They would have none of His laws and despised His life of lowliness and meekness, of gentleness and forgiveness. From that time the kingdom waits for its establishment, and we are taught to pray, "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth."

As individual followers of Jesus we have in the Gospels our pattern and guide for life in a sinful world. With the most non-resistant thing Jesus said or did Paul was in full accord, as binding upon the individual Christian in his private life. But as a citizen

we become a part of God's instrument for the ministration of righteous judgment against evil doers whether they act singly, or in mobs, or in organized governments, and must not fail Him when He wants to use us.

Shall Be No War

2. God has promised a time when there shall be no more war.

"In His days shall the righteous flourish, And abundance of peace, till the moon be no more."—Ps. 72:7.

"They shall beat their swords into plow shares, and their spear into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."—Micah 4:3.

"The powers that be shall not destroy in all My holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea."—Isa. 6:9. When will this glad day come? Not when this war is won and the wise men of the world agree on terms which they think will insure peace for centuries. Lasting peace can never be secured by the covenants of sinful men and covetous nations. When will this world peace be enjoyed? Jesus tells us in Matt. 24:14.

When the King of Peace cometh. He will come just as He said, "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole world for a testimony unto all nations; and then shall the end come." He was not talking of the end of the world but of "The consummation of the age." "The sign of Thy coming." Would you save the world another such war? Then hasten the coming of the King who will rule in righteousness by sending the gospel to the last man and woman in the earth.

Multiplied contributions of workers and money and prayers to missions now and after the war will prevent our posterity from drinking another just such a bloody mixture from the cup of God's wrath against apostate nations.

CAPT. CHAFFEE IS UNDER FIRE OF BOMBS FROM HUN PLANE

Performed 100 Operations In Three Days; Fortitude of Wounded Yankees Told

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 27.—A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chaffee from their son, Captain Burns S. Chaffee, M. R. C. Field Hospital No. 8, somewhere in France, brings home more vividly the awfulness to which our boys are subjected and the uncomplaining attitude shown by them. He writes:

"Dear Ones at Home: Two weeks have elapsed since I wrote you last. I intended to write early in the week, but plans in time of war are not to be relied upon. Last Monday my operating team and one other man were called to a point nearer to the front to help out. I was there three days, and then ordered back to our hospital to find everyone working overtime and praying for help. The trip nearer the front I would not have missed for the world. We had an experience such as I thus far never before had a part in. The wounded from a large sector of the battle front were brought to this place for treatment, and of course we had many wounded soldiers to care for, so you well know from the reports you have read in the papers. I never saw such a brave, non-complaining lot of men before. All about me were hundreds of wounded lying on beds and stretchers who had either been operated on or were waiting to be. The more slightly injured said they did not want to come to the hospital. They were all right and they wanted to stay and help keep the Germans on the run. The American soldiers are making the boches run and killing many more of them than they are of our boys from the States. One can't appreciate the character of the fighting. Even in my position I haven't a full grasp of it. Think of the millions of men heavily armed and equipped now facing each other, each side putting forth its greatest effort to smash its opponent. Unless on the field one can't appreciate the enormous amount of supplies necessary to maintain such armies in the field.

"The United States is satisfactorily demonstrating to Germany and Austria that she is not only able but actually is maintaining an army in France sufficiently strong to turn the tide and in the near future, through the combined efforts of the Allied nations, drive the enemy across the Rhine. Last Monday night a German plane came over the hospital and dropped a bomb. It fell fifty yards from the chateau in which I was operating. The explosion showered dirt and pieces of iron on our tents and buildings but did no real damage. I operated sixteen hours at one stretch. I had almost every conceivable injury to treat. One fellow had six perforations of the small bowel. I closed them and when I came away 48 hours later he was doing well. Of course he was not out of the woods, yet his condition was hopeful. I did about 100 operations in the three days. On returning to my organization we found a portion of the wounded being turned into our hospital and every one doing his best trying to care for the injured. Our teams were swamped with work, neighboring teams less busy were sent in relief teams and by relay system we worked night and day until the last wounded man had been cared for. That was this afternoon. The present rush is over, most of the wounded have been evacuated to the base hospitals in the rear. We keep the more serious cases a few days longer. I am perfectly well and enjoying my work. I find many opportunities for helping the boys and the most we are able to do isn't much, when we stop to consider the sacrifice they have made.

"Many soldiers have been killed. Some of those who return to us are compelled to leave an arm or leg, perhaps both. Practically all who come to us must undergo much suffering before recovering. Most of the dressing of wounds is accompanied with considerable pain. Today I was talking to a young man from Seattle, Wash., who lost his right hand. I told him he had performed his service and I thought he would be sent to the States soon. He said: 'That helps some.' The disabled are being returned to the United States. I've been told, as promptly as possible. I am sending an extract from the Paris edition of the New York Herald. It gives some account of the drive we had last June and some of the experiences of the boys. I will not write more this time, but will if time permits, write again during the week.

"CAPT. BURNS S. CHAFFEE, "M. R. C."

CAPT. BURNS S. CHAFFEE

field, where their wounds had been summarily dressed as soon as practicable, looked and spoke. The Americans at home may be proud of their sons at the front. They smile whenever possible and suffer in communion with their Maker. Nobody can ever know their sufferings because they never say a word of complaint. Splendid fellows, stretched in their beds, with the kindest of kind nurses and attendants, who seem to know by telepathy where they are wanted at any moment of the day or night. All the men I saw were seriously wounded, arms, legs and sometimes heads bandaged, and sometimes the chest, but all with their wounds in front—like the ancient Roman, who, when seen on the battle field by his conqueror, exclaimed: 'If I had men like those I would conquer the whole world.' The Kaiser seems to be learning something of Roman history nowadays.

The hospital is a clearing house for wounded. The colonel has his heart in his work and is very popular. Operations are carried on day and night. The nurses are cheerful and devoted. The work calls for extremely good nerves and great nervous strength on account of the rush hours and rush nights when wounded pour into the hospital. The place is very well ventilated, and the general arrangements are excellent.

Among the nurses are Miss Monahan, Miss Neary and Miss Wallace. These ladies are from Chicago and came over with the Murphy unit and worked at Etaples first, then with the No. 8 Hospital.

Surgeons' Work Successful
The men were all pretty severe cases. Those that are not urgent go on to the Paris hospitals. The operations are very successful, considering that many cases come late to the hospital. The tendency is to save the limbs if possible. The surgeons open very widely, cut away decayed tissues and then give big drainage, treating with Dakin solution and Carrel drains.

Many thrilling stories of heroism are heard from the lips of these men. A number of those who were in the recent terrible fighting around Boursches and Belleau Wood told me, in modest language, of their amazing exploits on the battle field.

Fritz Arno Thies, of Los Angeles, Cal., Marine Corps, said: "We were in the midst of shells at Lucy-le-Bocage, near Boursches. Three of the fellows and myself went for drinking water. My! We were thirsty. We took hand grenades and passed along about 150 yards to a German gun emplacement and wiped it out and took the Huns' canteens. I think of it now and I don't see how it was possible to have done it, but we were so thirsty!"

"After that I was in a dugout and we were shelled. A chap next to me had his head blown off. I realized at that moment that I had only one life to live. Well, I got hit on the leg and fingers. I left 500 francs in that dugout, also an iron cross and 300 marks of German money. My uncle, Bliven, is well-known on the 'Printers' Ink'."

"Boys, They've Got Us!"
Horace W. Gray, of Tecumseh, Adrian county, Mich., said: "We had taken our position near Lucy in the morning. In the afternoon the Germans started shelling us with high explosives. My duties were those of a runner or messenger for the machine guns. I was up on a hill and trying to shield myself from the shells. Four others were on the same rock. Suddenly I heard a noise and I sang out, 'Boys, the damned boches have got us!'"

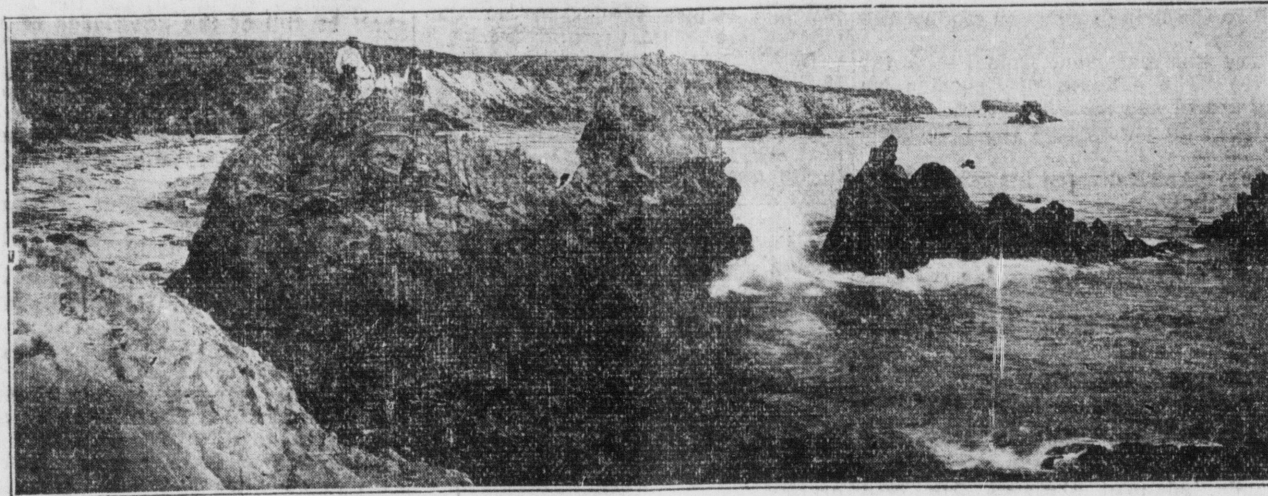

"I was lucky, because the barrage shifted and I could get to the dressing station and afterwards to the hospital. The wounded are picked up by stretcher-bearers and these fellows do their best under all circumstances. If they don't get all the wounded at one time it is not their fault. I don't blame them, but I do blame the Prussians. The American officers are splendid, well trained and know their business, and we have plenty of machine guns, rifles and ammunition."

Chicago may be proud of one of its sons, L. G. Fogle. This boy, handsome, intelligent, lying on his bed of suffering, is a type all Americans love to see. "I suppose it will do no harm now, if I tell it," said Fogle, "but I enlisted when I was fifteen. I am seventeen now," and the young soldier stretched himself as well as he could in his hospital cot.

Mr. A. Gilpin, of Texas, who was at Lucy, said: "One of our men of the Marine Corps was going along, but somehow got behind the rest of his party. Left alone, some fifteen Germans sprang upon him. He instinctively sought his rifle and, while he was getting it in position (the whole thing was over like a flash) the whole German gang threw up their hands, crying 'kamerad,' and surrendered."

"One of the Germans captured on this occasion said that the Prussian Guards drove the other units into action at the point of the bayonet. Our corps captured machine guns with the men chained to the guns. The firing was terrific. I heard one of our officers say that the machine guns of the enemy fired more than 200 shots in a

Beautiful Laguna Beach The Chosen Home of Famous Artists

Perhaps nowhere on this earth's surface can one find the unique combination that is found at Laguna Beach, right at our doorstep. Famous artists, traveling the world over in search of scenery that will enchant the eye, find here a combination of mountain and sea wonderful enough to induce them to make it their home. Looking up at the mountains, with their steep sides reaching down into the beautiful canyons, one can scarcely imagine that he is so close to cities and farms.

A right about turn, and one beholds the Pacific Ocean in all its splendor right at his feet, kissing and caressing a white sand bathing beach that is second to none, a fact attested to by the numerous bathers. Here you may have your individual bathing beach for in addition to the central beach there are here and there strips of clean white sand enclosed by towering cliffs.

Fishing at Laguna Beach is a popular sport and compares well with that of Catalina Island, which can be seen in the distance. Abalone and mussel hunting in abundance, a sport preferred by many to fishing. Beautiful bungalows, several hundred cottages, a Tent City, where one may hire by day or year all the comforts of a modern home, added to plenty of pure drinking water and good soil, makes Laguna Beach an ideal summer home. Stores, including up-to-date drug store, restaurants, hotel, boarding and rooming houses, garages, and a postoffice are at Laguna Beach. You will be made welcome.

Rest and quiet and contentment mark the rugged shore. Coves and water washed rocks, nooks, deep channels in which waters surge, wondrous expanse of seashore, distant promontories—altogether the visitor at Laguna Beach has an endless variety of scenery and picturesque detail.

There is an atmosphere about Laguna Beach that is different from other beaches. It is an atmosphere that binds the spot to the hearts of those who have seen it, and the longer one stays the closer is the tie that binds.

minute, which is quite a record, so far as I know."

John H. Peters, of Chicago, Marine Corps, said: "We were brought up to line near Lucy in trucks. We got to the point of attack about 3 o'clock in the morning and rested until the afternoon, when we were put in formation and away we went over the plowed fields. A French Lieutenant came up and advised our Lieutenant to retire, but the latter replied, 'Bah' and kept us on the go. We stopped the Prussians' advance there and then. We were using rifles and machine guns, but they had no artillery, while our artillery was going full tilt and pounding hell out of them."

Worse Than Hell
"How did I get in the hospital? Why, we were going over the top on another night after the time I last referred to, when the Germans got up a barrage of high explosives, and the majority of shells contained gas. I did not know I was gassed until the next day. My eyes got closed and I got bad in the face and nose with that accursed mustard. Besides being gassed, I got hit in the arm. Shells flew for three hours and a half. When Sherman said 'war is hell,' he didn't know what modern war was like."

A story of the battle for Boursches is told by Albert R. Ziemer, of Minneapolis, Minn., who said: "Our Marine Corps had orders to take the town of Boursches. To accomplish this we had to face a heavy machine gun fire and artillery barrage. How did this affect us? I know how it affected me. It just made me feel that we had to get those dirty Germans. When a man falls, we know we cannot take care of him, because this would diminish our force at critical moments. "We won our objective, and one Lieutenant and twenty-four men entered the town first, and my company came up there five or ten minutes afterwards. There was a German machine gun when the Lieutenant entered the town, and the Prussian gunner, seeing the Lieutenant coming, grasped his machine gun and ran. The Lieutenant ran after him and captured ed gun and gunner. Americans ought to know the name of that Lieutenant. His name was Robertson."

"After getting all we started for we moved to the Belleau Wood and took it from the Germans, which was not gained without the loss of many Marines, but the Germans fell all about us. We did not have time to bury our dead, but that was done afterwards. On June 15 the Germans sent over a heavy barrage. I was lying in my dugout when a piece of shrapnel hit my foot (deleted.)"

Tribute to Officers
"Eat? Oh, we had hard tack and bully beef, sometimes French bread and tinned salmon and coffee once in a while. Our officers are fine fellows—no better men anywhere. We lost three of our company's officers. The captains always go at the head of the men and are gallant men themselves. A man can follow an American officer."

What Germans Say
I saw a group of German wounded in the hospital. They were a repugnant lot of ill-complexioned creatures. I questioned them, and the gist of the conversation was that conditions in Germany were poor and the people were poor and tired of the war. They had enough to eat of some things, but little or no meat and very little bread—700 grammes a day to each soldier. The Americans have better quality and greater quantity of food.

When asked why the German surrendered so easily and threw up his hands and cried comrade, one German, a horrid brute, replied: "Because in most cases they have left home for the first time, and in others because they do not know the English for 'surrender'." One German asked what would happen if he got well, and was told he would probably have to work. He expressed satisfaction and said he would be happy to be able to work, as he was a good farmer and had made money at farming.

It was amusing to hear the remarks of some Americans wounded in beds near those of the Germans. When the man said he surrendered because he was away from home for the first time, one Marine Corps man broke in: "You square-head, you'll never win the war in that way! They are yellow; that's why they surrender."

CIRCUS COMING ON SEPT. 20TH

Barnum & Bailey's "Greatest Show on Earth" to Enter-tain Orange County

Co-incidental with the appearance at the West End Theater last night of Enid Bennett in "The Biggest Show on Earth" comes the announcement of the coming, on Friday, September 20, of "The Greatest Show on Earth," the Barnum & Bailey Circus.

Advertising car No. 1 arrived here today with a corps of thirty men in charge of W. C. St. Clair, W. L. Wilken, the first arrival of the press agents, called on the Register, and once again the glad tidings are being spread broadcast telling of the coming of the Barnum & Bailey Circus. The Greatest Show on Earth, it is announced, will "positively be exhibited here" on Friday, September 20.

It is promised that nothing to compare with the present Barnum & Bailey performance has ever before been seen under canvas. New and novel features have been imported from abroad and a program of events, thrilling educational and screamingly funny will occupy every instant in three rings, four stages, and riggings above and the hippodrome surrounding for more than three hours.

There is a new and gorgeous pageant entitled "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," in which nearly 1,400 persons and one thousand animals appear in magnificent costumes rivaling the dress of the people of the famous "Arabian Nights" story. This will be followed by a host of acts in all parts of the great enclosure. There will be sixty clowns, a greatly increased menagerie of wild and untamed animals, four great herds of elephants, several caravans of camels and many recently born baby animals.

The free street parade, which will start from the circus lot at 10 o'clock on the morning of circus day, is entirely different from anything of the kind ever seen before. It will be three miles in length.

With the largest tent in the history of all circuses, the Barnum & Bailey circus promises this season to make good again its boast that it is "The Greatest Show on Earth." Five railroad trains comprising 89 railroad cars, will be required to transport its paraphernalia, and more than 750 horses will be used to transfer its wagons from the railroad yards to the show lot.

ALSO SATISFIED THAT A METEOR CAUSED IT

The Redlands Review is satisfied that the mystery explosion heard at San Juan Capistrano Tuesday morning was caused by a meteor. The Review had the following:

"One of the most brilliant meteors ever seen in Redlands rent the skies from north to south Tuesday morning about 3:30 o'clock. It was observed by some of the Review's mechanical force who were on their way home. The meteor was described as an exceptionally large one and when it had reached a position somewhat south and a little west of Redlands it broke up beneath the clouds just like a skyrocket, making a very beautiful sight. Other Redlands folk who had retired but were not asleep observed the light, but thought it was from lightning. It would easily have been possible to have read a newspaper by the light while the meteor was making its way across the heavens. A report from San Juan Capistrano, which is in Orange county and south and west of Redlands, states that that village was somewhat shaken up at the time the meteor was observed here and there is little doubt but that the commotion there was caused by the bursting of the fireball."

W. S. S. — ACCIDENT WAS "UNAVOIDABLE" GLENDALE, Aug. 30.—The verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest held over the body of E. M. McClure, a former resident of this city, who was killed at Vernon Junction Saturday night by being run down by an auto truck, was "death by unavoidable accident." The funeral of the deceased was largely attended and was conducted by officiant of the local Elks' Lodge, of which he was a charter member.

HE WON'T DROP DEAD ANY MORE

"My husband suffered terribly from stomach and liver trouble, which caused such bloating of gas as to seriously affect his heart. Doctors warned him that he might drop dead at any time from this trouble. A friend in Cleveland advised him to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it, four months ago, he is feeling like a young man again. All his friends are surprised at his appearance." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

WILL CONSIDER NEW LOCATION, RED CROSS

The National Guards Company Would Like to Get Into the Armory

Officers of the new National Guards company want the Red Cross to give up the armory to the National Guards. A request to that effect was presented yesterday to T. E. Stephenson, chairman, and Fred Rafferty, secretary, of the local Red Cross by Capt. A. E. Koepsel and Lieuts. J. L. Elliott and J. C. Hayden, and will be presented at the monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Red Cross next Thursday afternoon.

The Armory Hall Association, composed of a number of local stockholders, owns the building, and has been very liberal in its terms with the Red Cross. Of the $65 a month rental, the state has been paying $15 a month for the storage of lockers, shelving and some other state property, leaving the Red Cross $50 a month to pay for rent. The owners of the armory have received no more than enough, if that, to meet its obligations. The Red Cross has a written agreement for the use of the building for the duration of the war, and if it gives up the building to the Guards it will be a voluntary act on its part, and at some sacrifice in conveniences.

The Guardsmen point out that there is no other place in the city where they can be housed. They want officers' rooms, quartermaster rooms, club rooms for the members, and a big drill hall. They suggested a move to the Chandler building on Main street between Fifth and Sixth streets, where one, two or three store rooms are available, two rooms renting for $75 and three for $100. With the establishment of the new guards company, the chances are the state will withdraw its $15 a month for storage and if the company does not get the armory, may move out of its property as can be moved. Most of the lockers would have to be sawed into sections before they could be taken out.

The Red Cross is well satisfied with its quarters, and naturally is not anxious to move. The matter will be discussed thoroughly next Thursday and some final decision reached as soon as possible.
